Let's stitch the blocks! Load the design to your embroidery machine...

1. Hoop a piece of stabilizer.

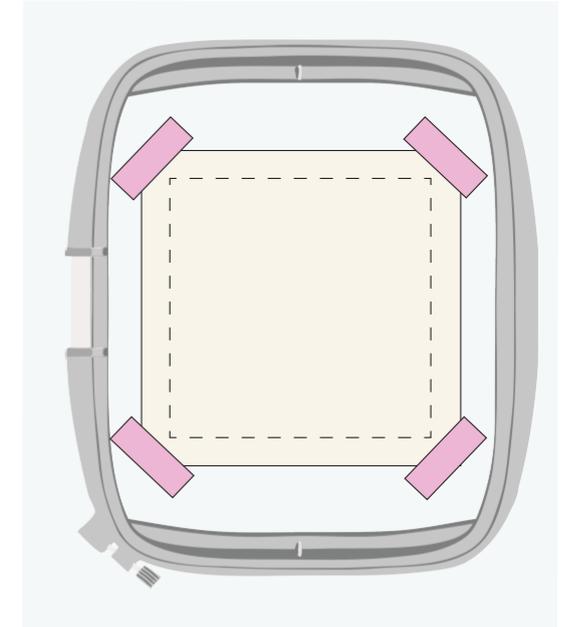

Sew Stitch Sequence 1 directly on your stabilizer to stitch a placement line.

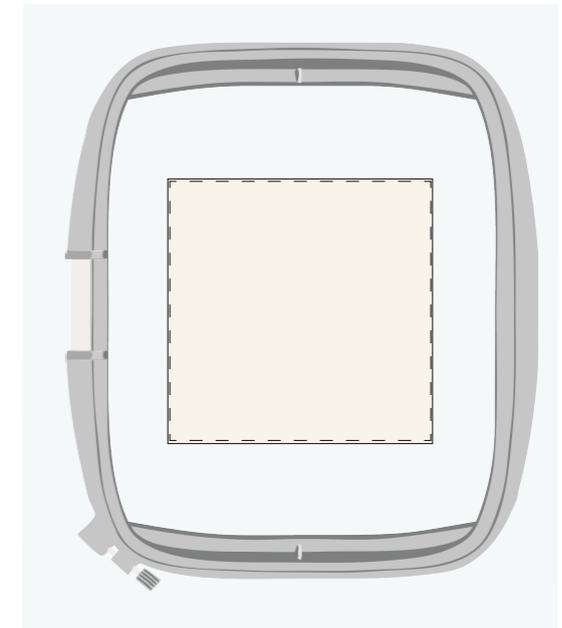

2. Center a piece of batting over the placement line. Tape in place.

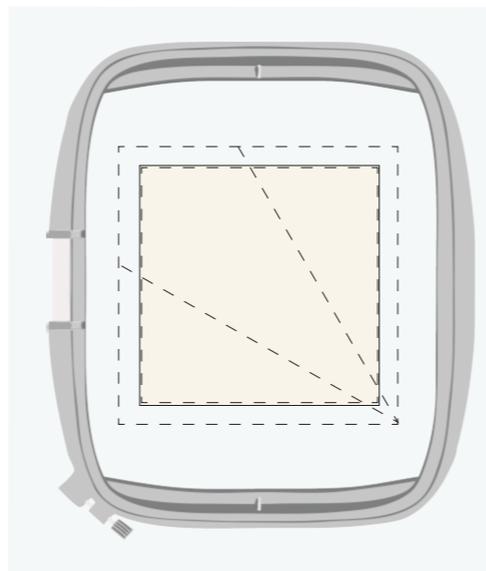

3. Sew Stitch Sequence 2 to tack down the batting.

4. Remove the hoop from the machine and trim around the stitch line, getting as close as you can to the stitches. This will reduce bulk in the seams of the block.

5. Sew Stitch Sequence 3 to stitch a kite-shaped placement line for Fabric A.

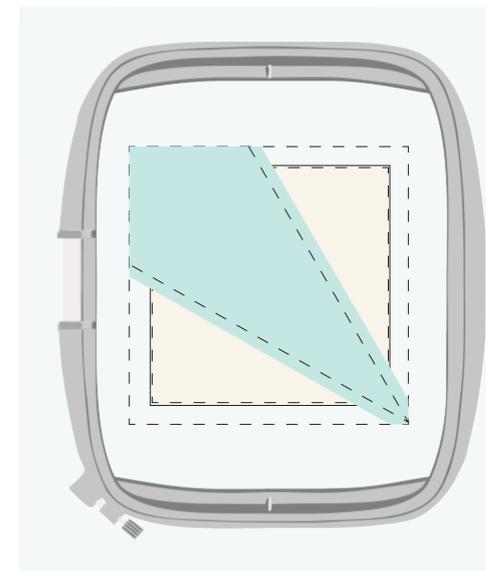

6. Center Fabric A, right side up, over the hoop, covering the placement line.

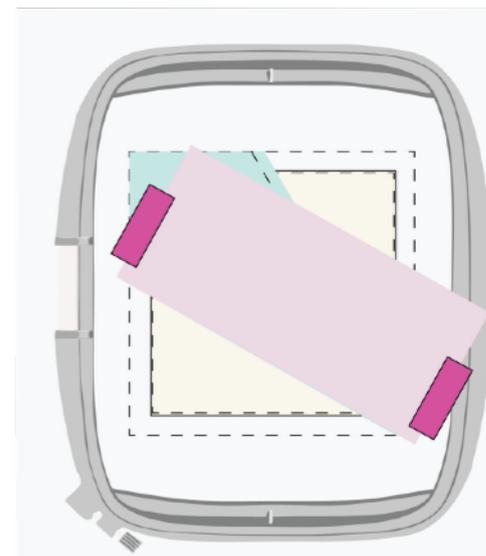

7. Sew Stitch Sequence 4 to tack down Fabric A.

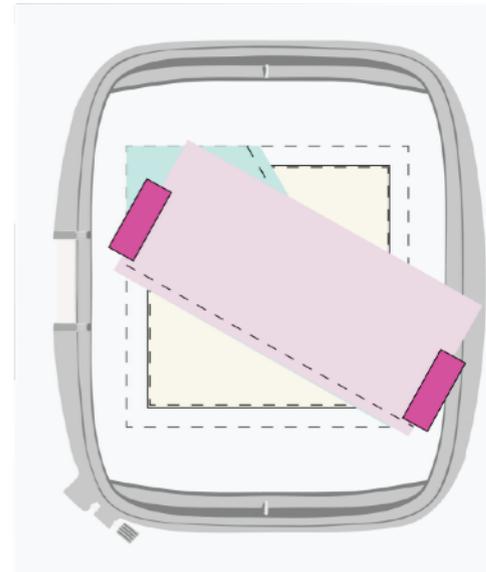

8. Trim the diagonal seams to 1/4" seam allowance.

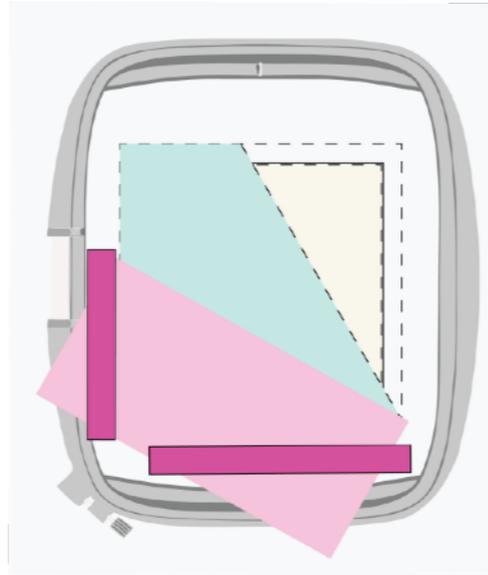

9. Place Fabric B over project, right side down. Align with the lower diagonal seam allowance of Fabric A, being sure to cover the seam allowance completely so it doesn't show through in your finished block. Tape in place on the sides.

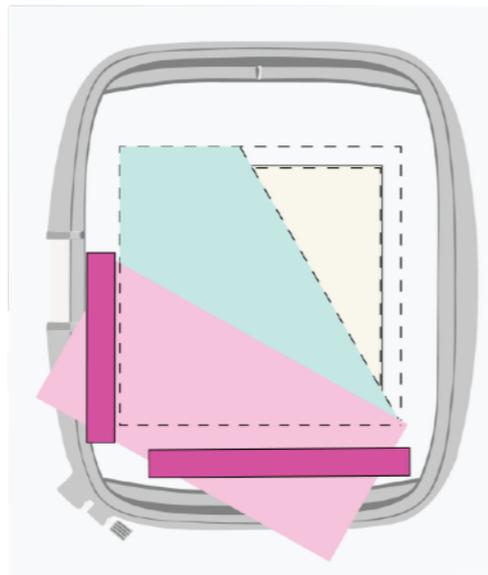

10. Sew Stitch Sequence 5 to tack down Fabric B.

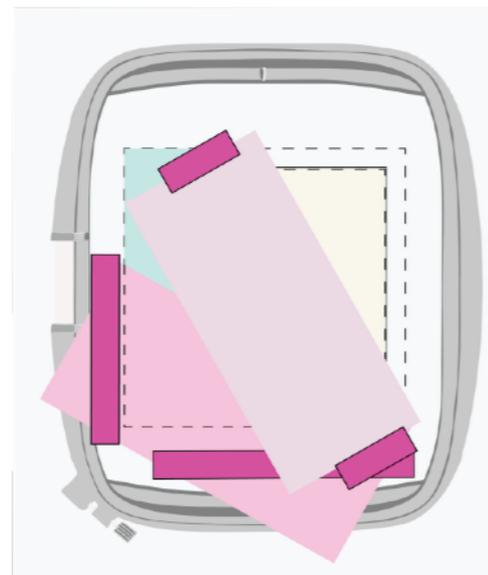

11. Remove the tape, and fold Fabric B down over its stitch line so it is now right side up. Finger press the seam well. Tape in place.

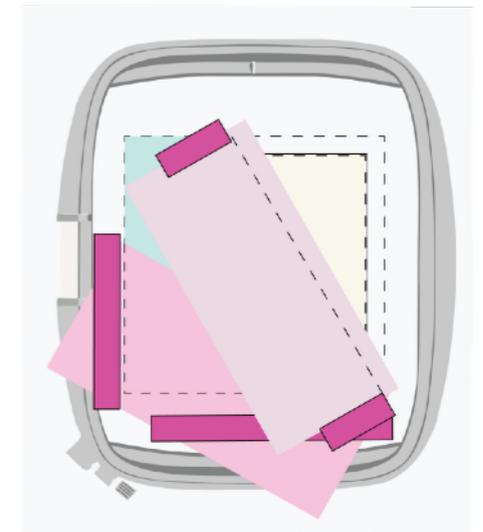

12. Sew Stitch Sequence 6 to tack down Fabric B.

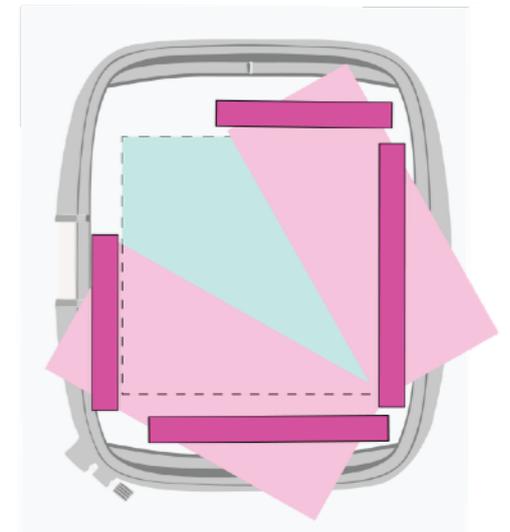

13. Place Fabric C, right side down. Align with upper diagonal seam allowance of Fabric A.

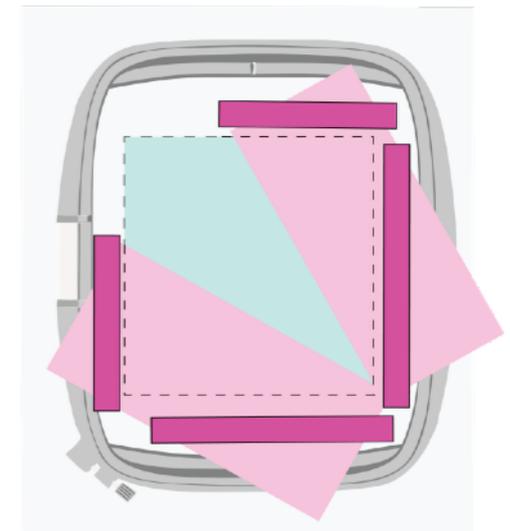

14. Sew Stitch Sequence 7 to tack down Fabric C.

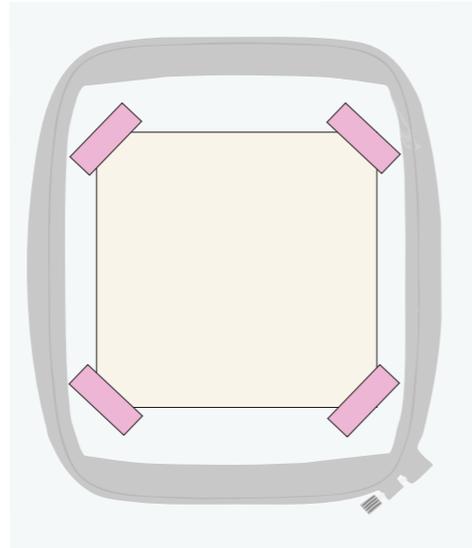

15. Remove the tape, and fold Fabric C up over its stitch line so it is now right side up. Finger press the seam well. Tape in place.

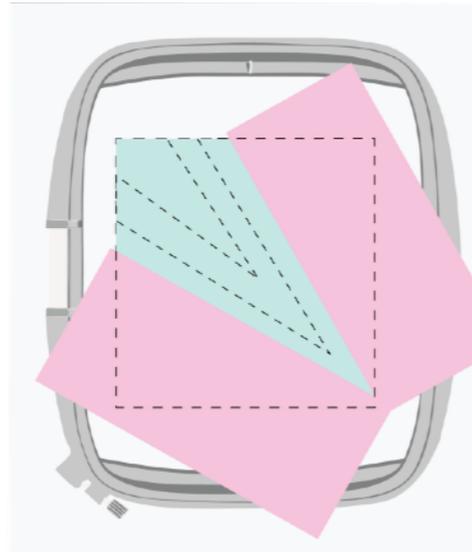

16. Sew Stitch Sequence 8 to tack down Fabric C.

17. Remove the hoop from the machine and turn it over to the back. Center Fabric D over the outer placement line. Tape in place well so the fabric won't shift.

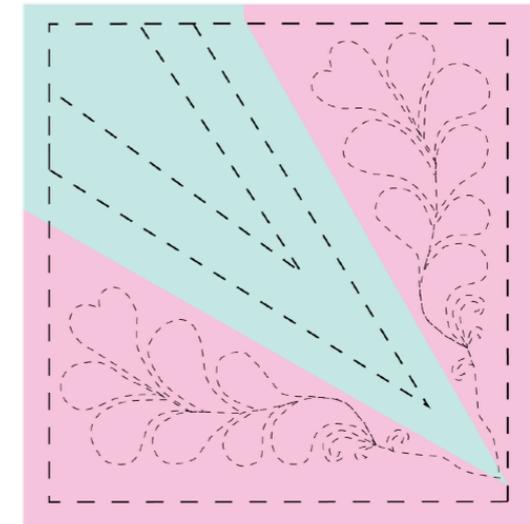

18. Return the hoop to the machine. Sew Stitch Sequence 9 to quilt Fabric A.

19. Stitch Sequence 10 - quilt Fabrics B and C.

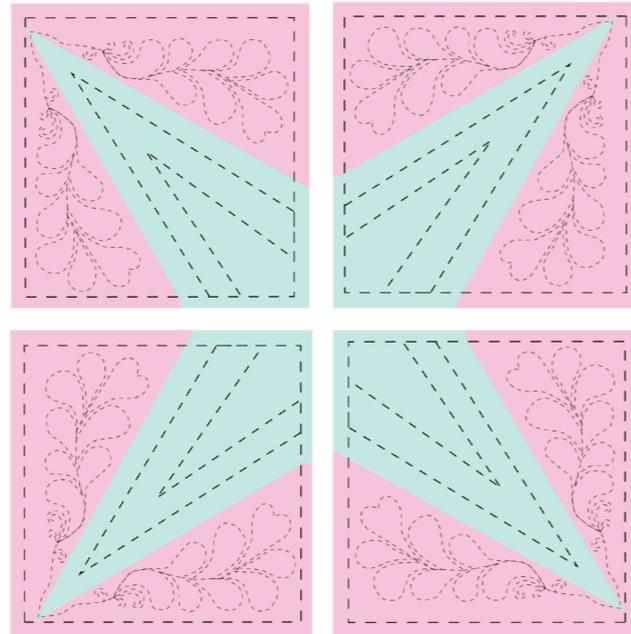

20. Remove the project from the hoop. Square up the block to the original block design size. Hint: There is a straight stitch around the block that you can use as a guide.

Stitch 24 blocks total for your wall hanging.

Let's join the blocks...

21. To create the stars, pair four blocks.

22. Pin the top two blocks together, matching up the side triangles.

23. Stitch the top two blocks together with a 1/4" seam allowance, using a walking foot on your machine and a 3.0 – 4.0 stitch length. Be sure to match the side triangles before stitching.

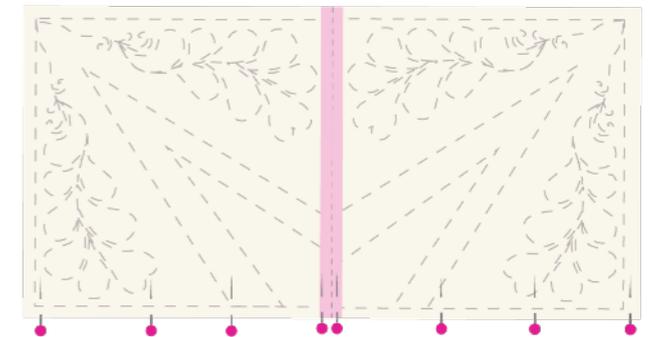

Press all seams open.

Repeat with the two bottom blocks.

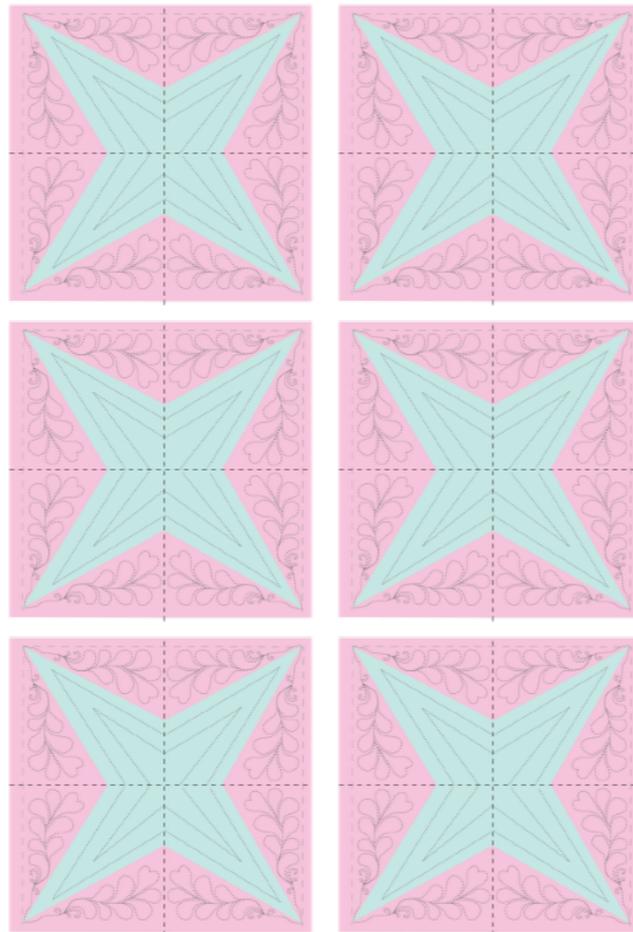

24. Stitch the top block set to the bottom block set, matching the center seam and the side triangles.

Press seams open.

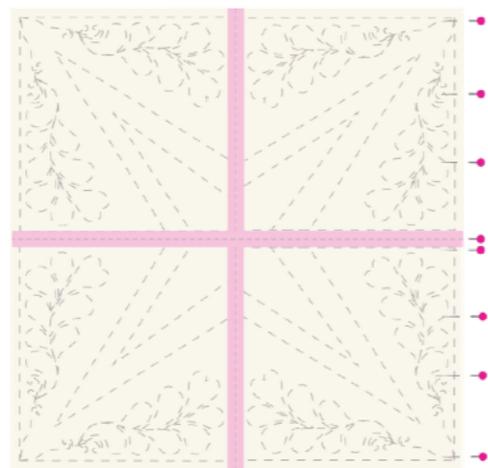

25. Repeat with remaining blocks until you have 6 stars or enough for the quilt size you wish to make.

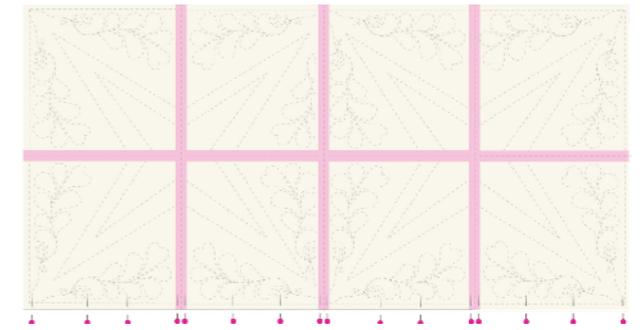

26. Pair up the star blocks and stitch them together in pairs of two, matching the center seam and the side triangles. Press seams open.

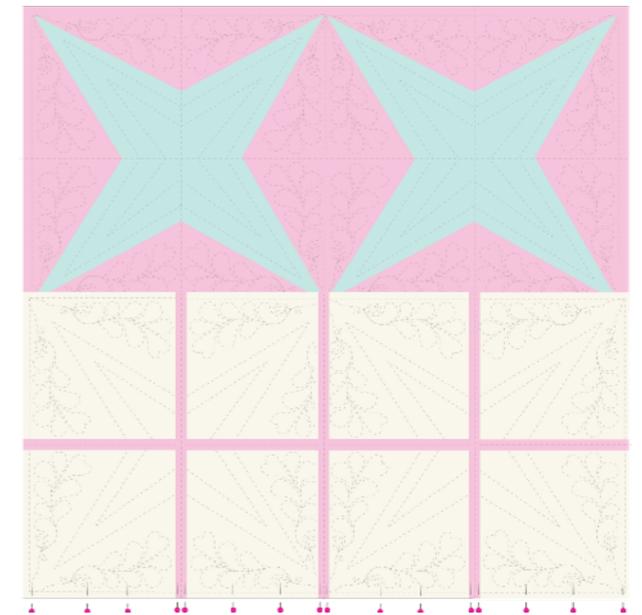

Repeat with the other two pairs of star blocks.

27. Stitch top section to middle section, matching the center seam and the side triangles. Press seams open.

28. Stitch the middle section to lower section, matching the center seam and the side triangles. Press seams open.

Let's make bias tape and cover the back seams...

29. Use a bias tape maker to turn the bias strips into bias tape, following the instructions on the package.

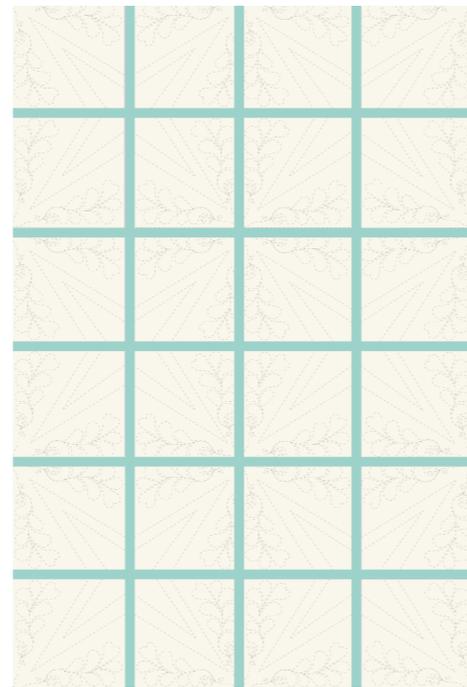

NOTE: If you made 8" blocks, sub-cut one bias strip into three 14" strips. Piece each of these onto full bias strip lengths to make three strips long enough for the length of the quilt. (See steps 32-35 to learn how to piece strips together.)

31. Using invisible thread on top and in the bobbin, sew a zigzag or serpentine stitch on each edge of the bias tape strips to stitch them down.

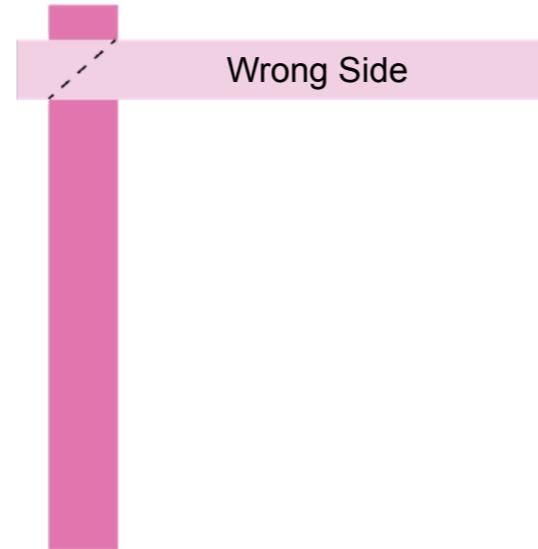

30. Back the bias tape with fusible seam tape, then cover the seams on the back side of the quilt with the bias tape.

Let's make binding...

32. Lay one strip of binding fabric on a table, right side up. Lay another strip on top of the first, right side down. The strips should extend beyond each other by 1".

Stitch diagonally across the strips, as shown.

33. Trim the seam to a 1/4" seam allowance and trim off the excess triangles of fabric.

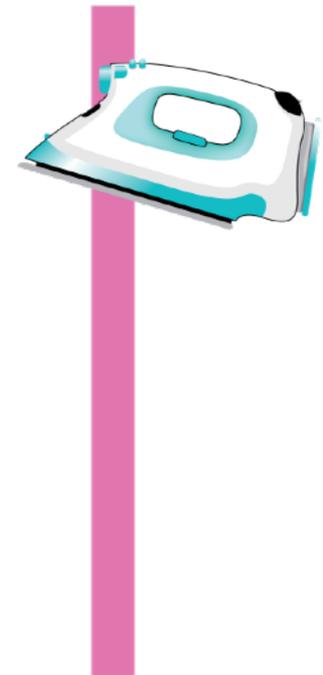

34. Turn the binding to the back and press the seam open.

Continue attaching the strips in this manner until they're all joined.

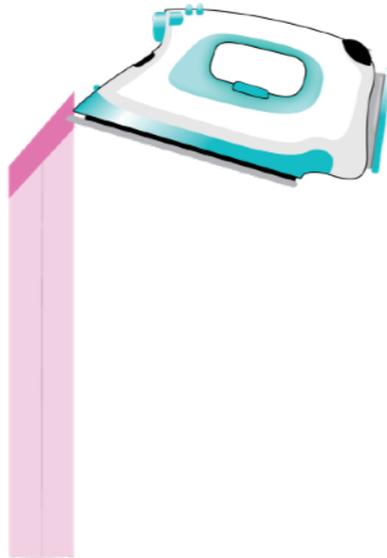

35. Fold the binding in half, lengthwise, wrong sides together. Press to crease.

36. Open the binding strip and trim one end diagonally, as shown.

37. Fold down the diagonal end, wrong sides together. Press to crease.

38. Refold the binding strip, wrong sides together. Set aside.

Let's stitch the binding to your quilt...

Stitch the binding to your quilt, using your favorite method, or by following the steps below.

39. Place the binding on the edge of your quilt, starting with the finished end, matching up the raw edges of the binding to the raw edges of the quilt.

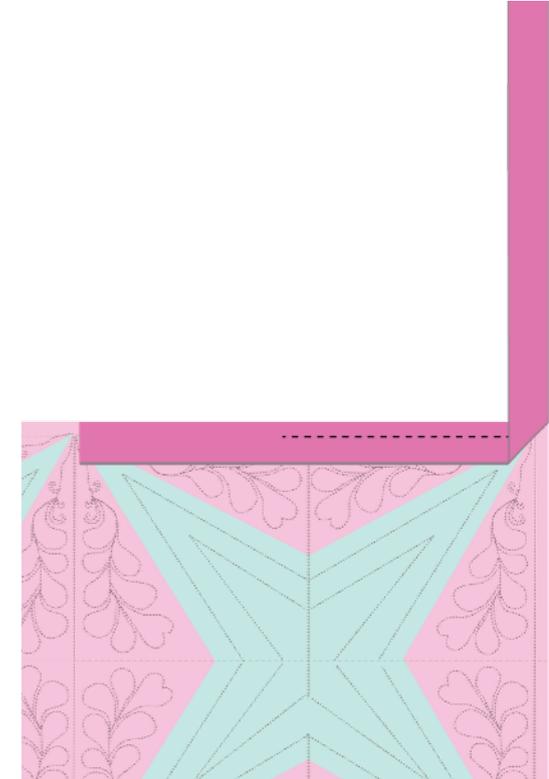

Start stitching 4" in from the end of the binding, using a 1/4" seam allowance.

40. When you get near a corner, stop 1/4" from the end and stitch diagonally to the corner.

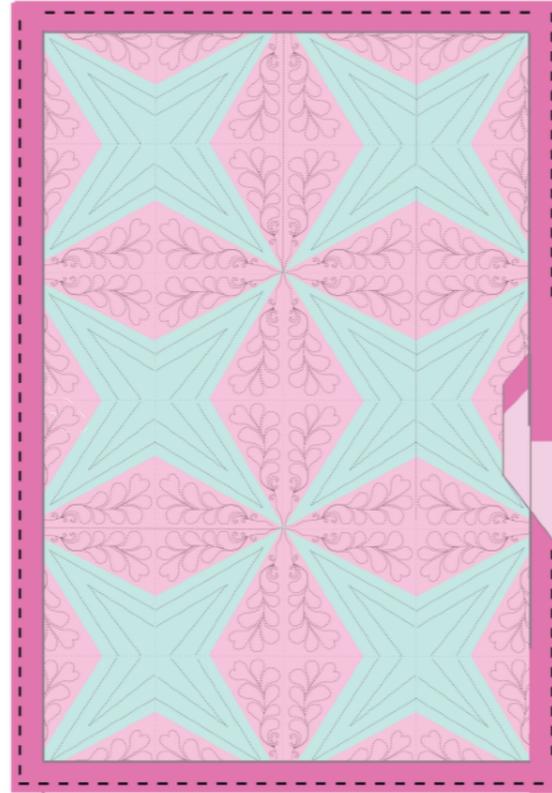

41. Bring the binding straight up, keeping the raw edge of binding aligned with the raw edge of the quilt.

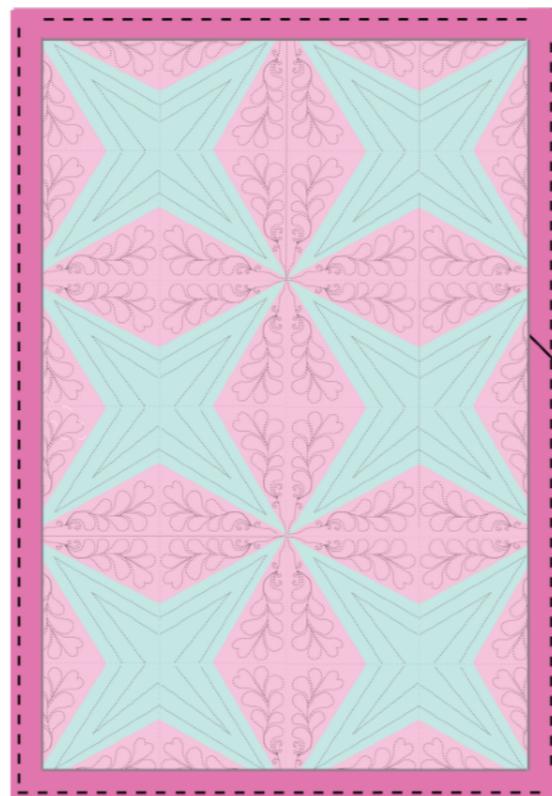

42. Bring the binding back down, with the fold aligned with the top edge of the quilt. Start stitching again 1/4" in from the top edge, and continue until you get 6" from the start of the binding.

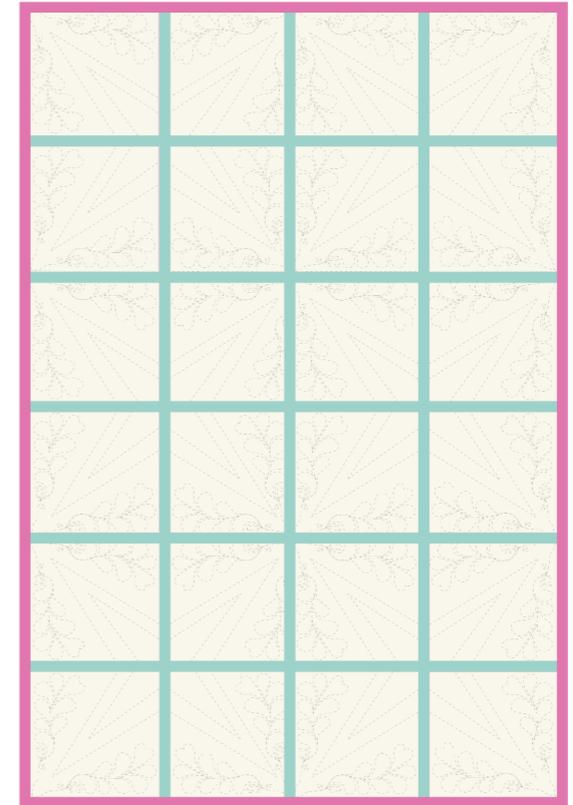

43. Open the starting binding. Sandwich the unfolded binding inside the folded end of the binding. Trim the unfolded binding about 1" in from the end of the folded binding.

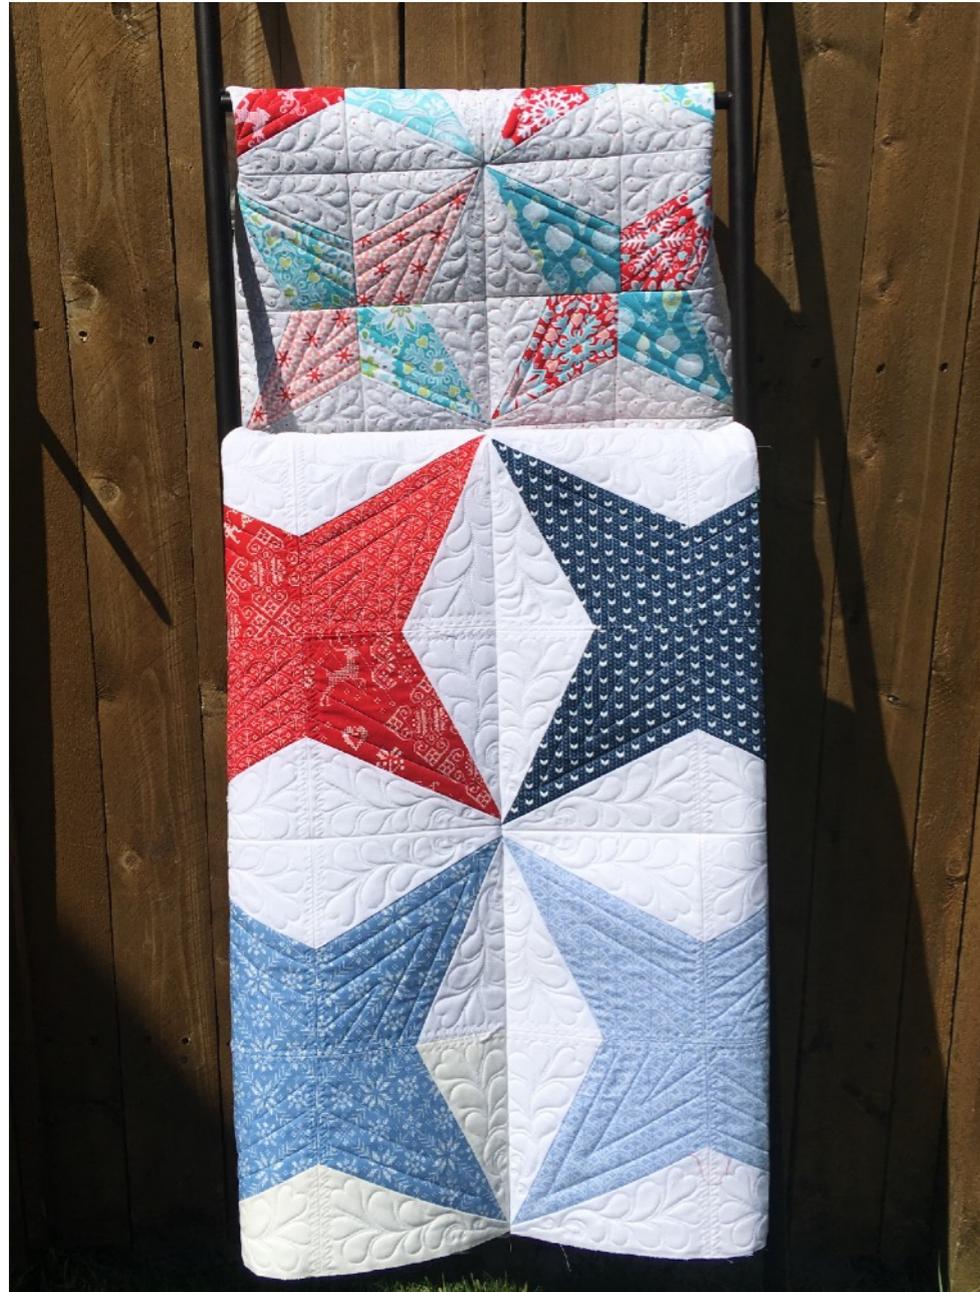

44. Refold the binding and stitch it down.

45. Fold the binding to the back of the quilt, clipping to hold it in place, then hand stitch the binding to the quilt back, or use a zigzag or serpentine stitch by machine..

You're done!
