THE TANGLED HOME

*Step by Step details on how to Zentangle on Fabric
With Pam Damour CZT*

About Zentangle®

There are many Zentangle or “Tangle” patterns out for us to copy and share. Drawing them is simple, easy and fun if you follow the step outs. The patterns in this presentation are just a sampling of what is available to you. The pens you choose are up to you. I’m constantly looking for better pens, better colors, stronger nibs and ways make ZIAs (Zentangle Inspired Art) better.

The difference between Zentangle on Paper & Fabric

When tangling on paper, we often use a pen with a smaller nib, and a pencil & tortillion for shading and blending.

These are the pen I use on fabric.

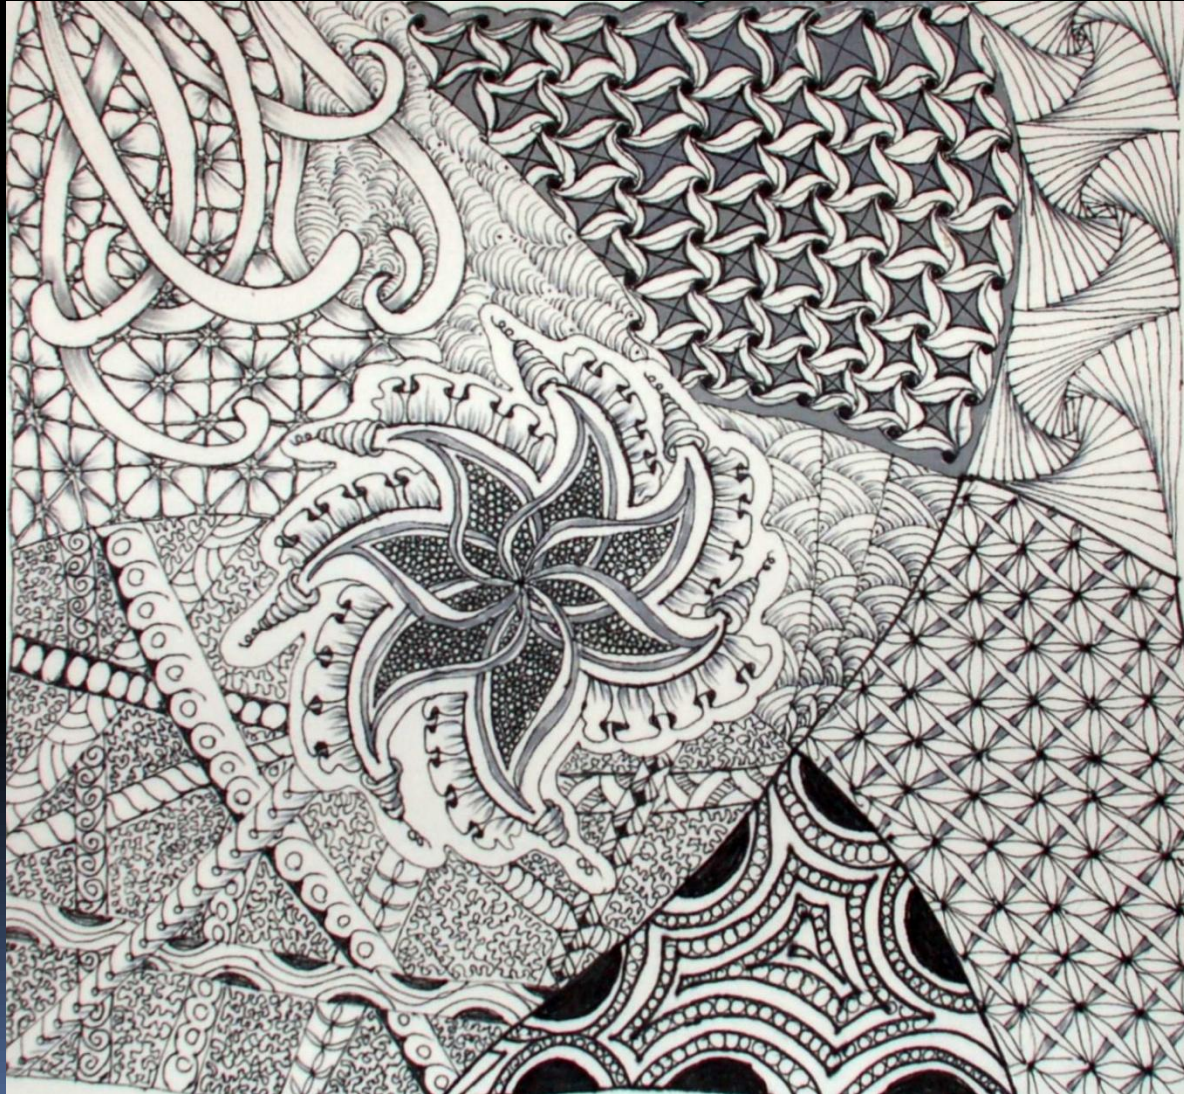

Why Three Pens?

- The red FriXion pen is for the temporary lines, like those drawn with a pencil when on paper
- The dual tipped Identi pen has one small tip for drawing and a large tip for shading and filling large areas of color.
- The Grey Fabrico pen has two tips perfect for shading and replaces the pencil and tortillion.

My first tangle on paper!

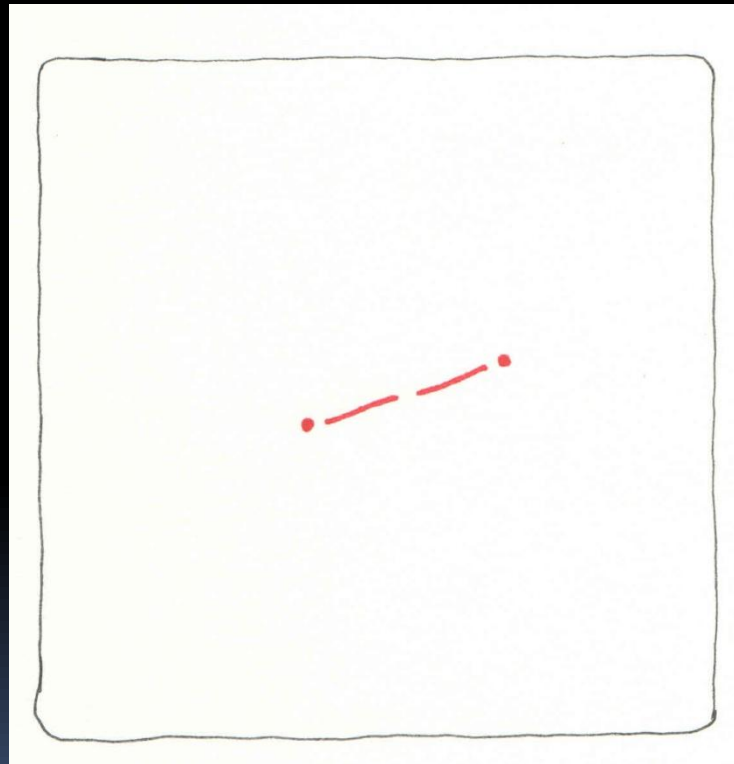

My first tangle on fabric!

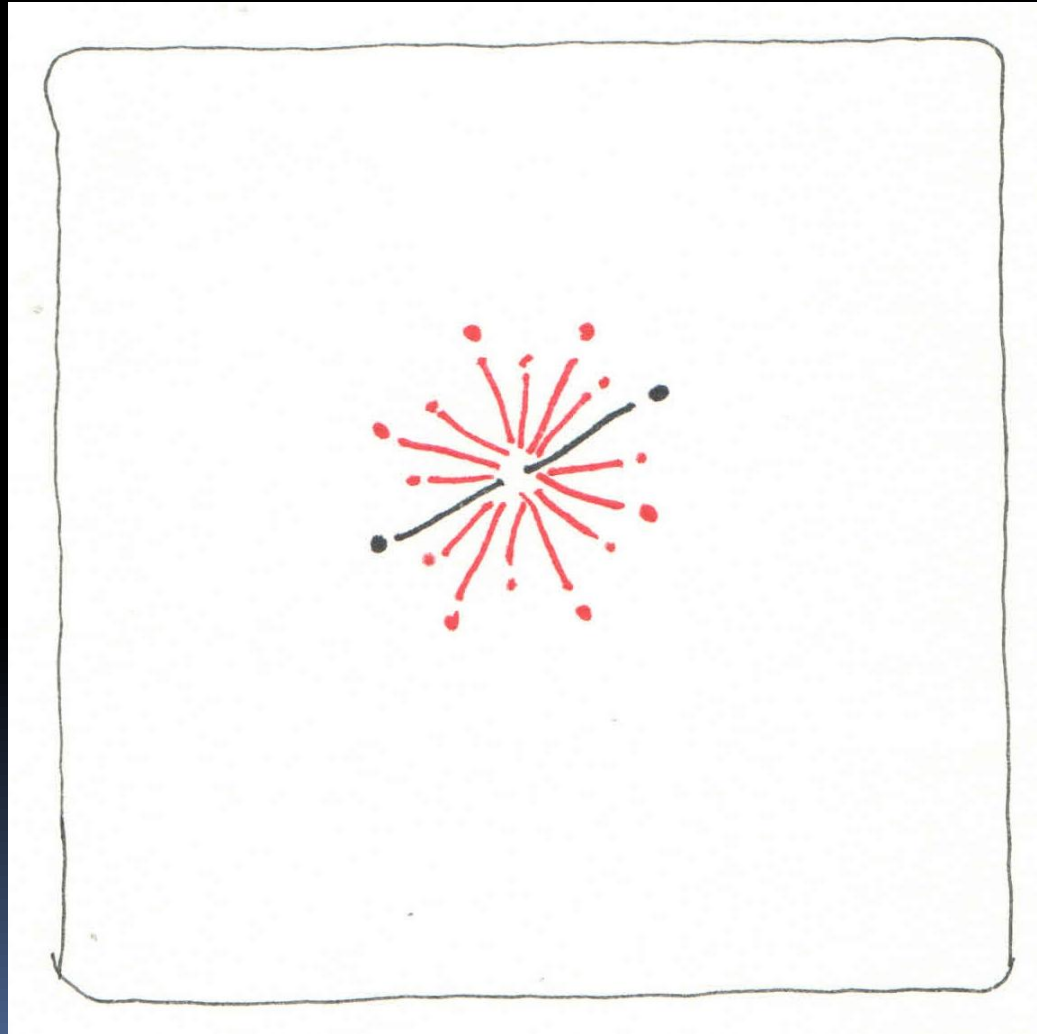

Now let's draw together!

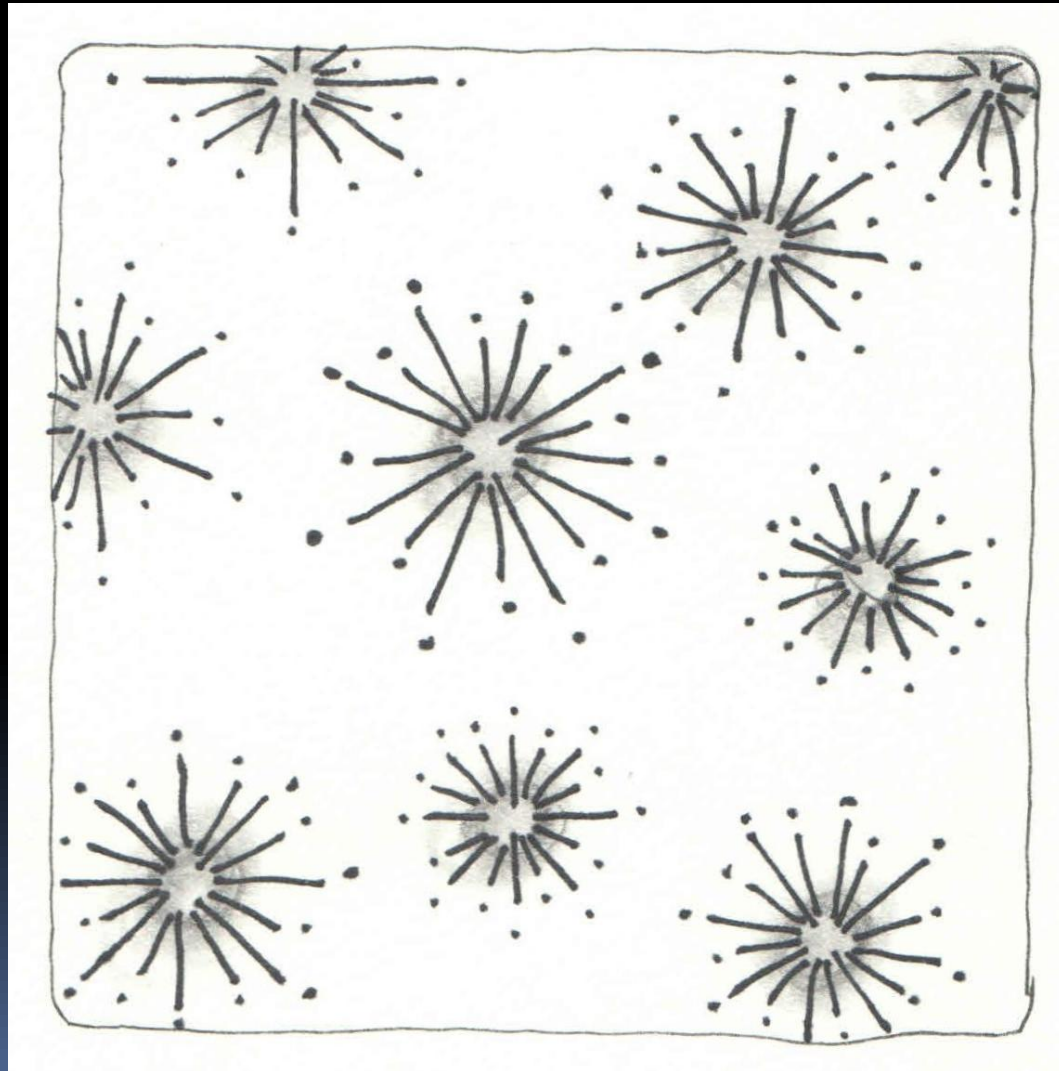

The next step . . .

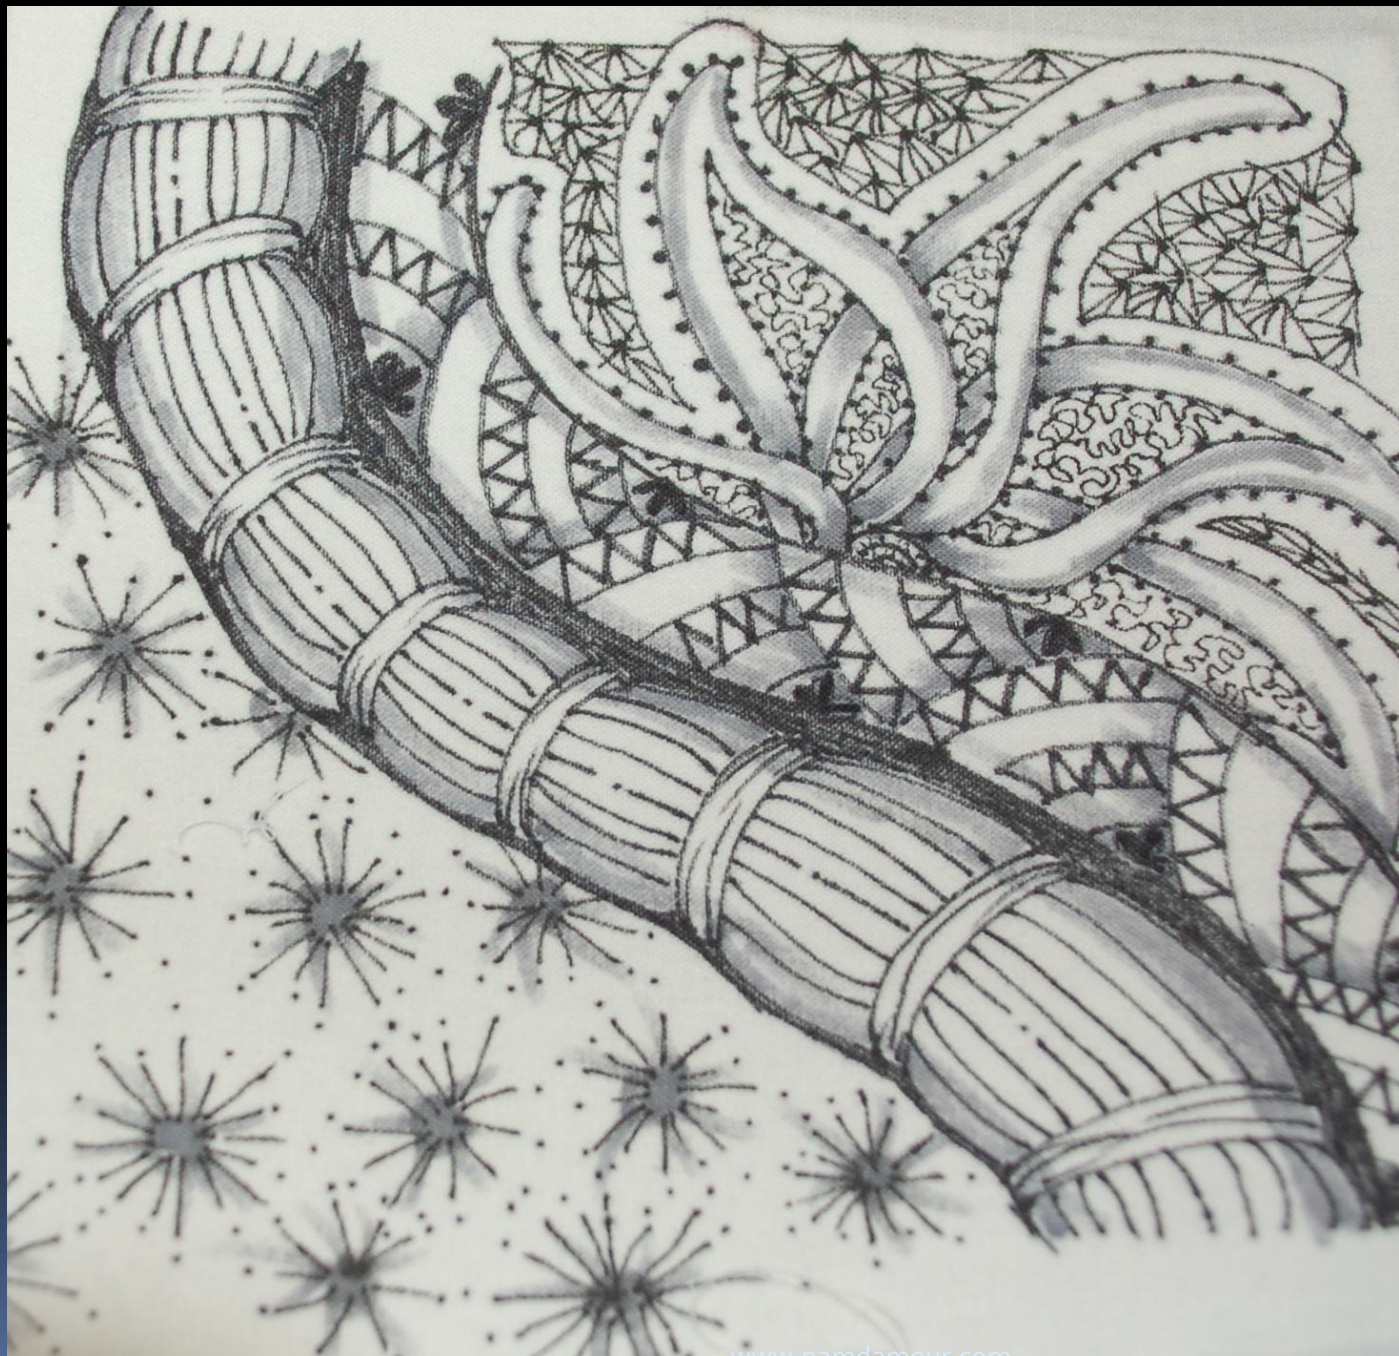

And then. . .

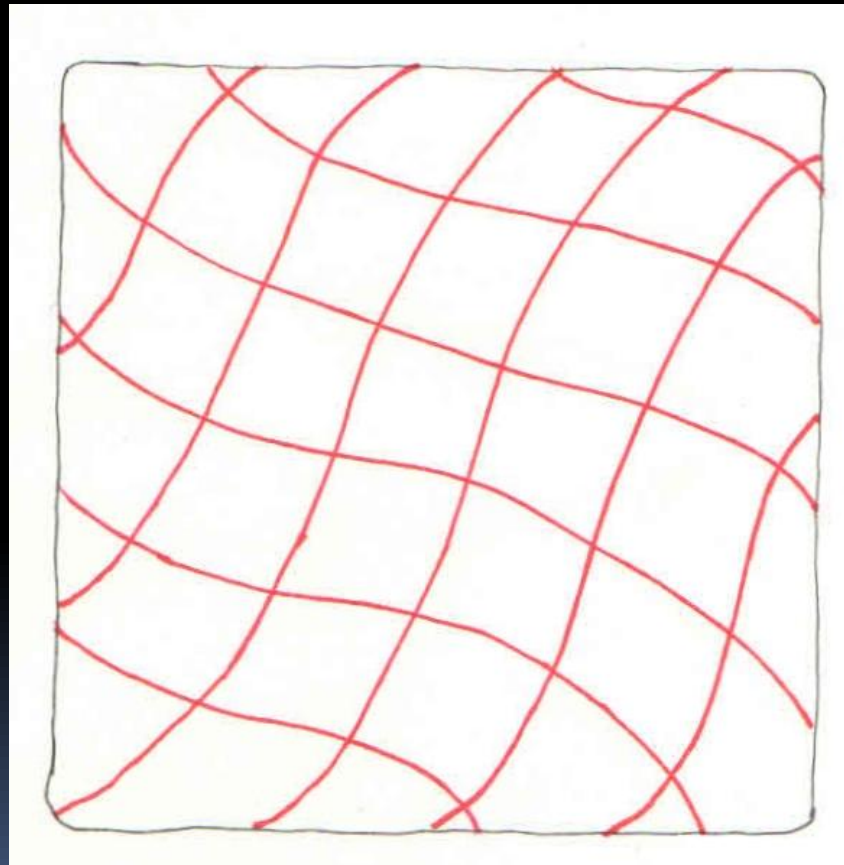

Finally. . . Shade.

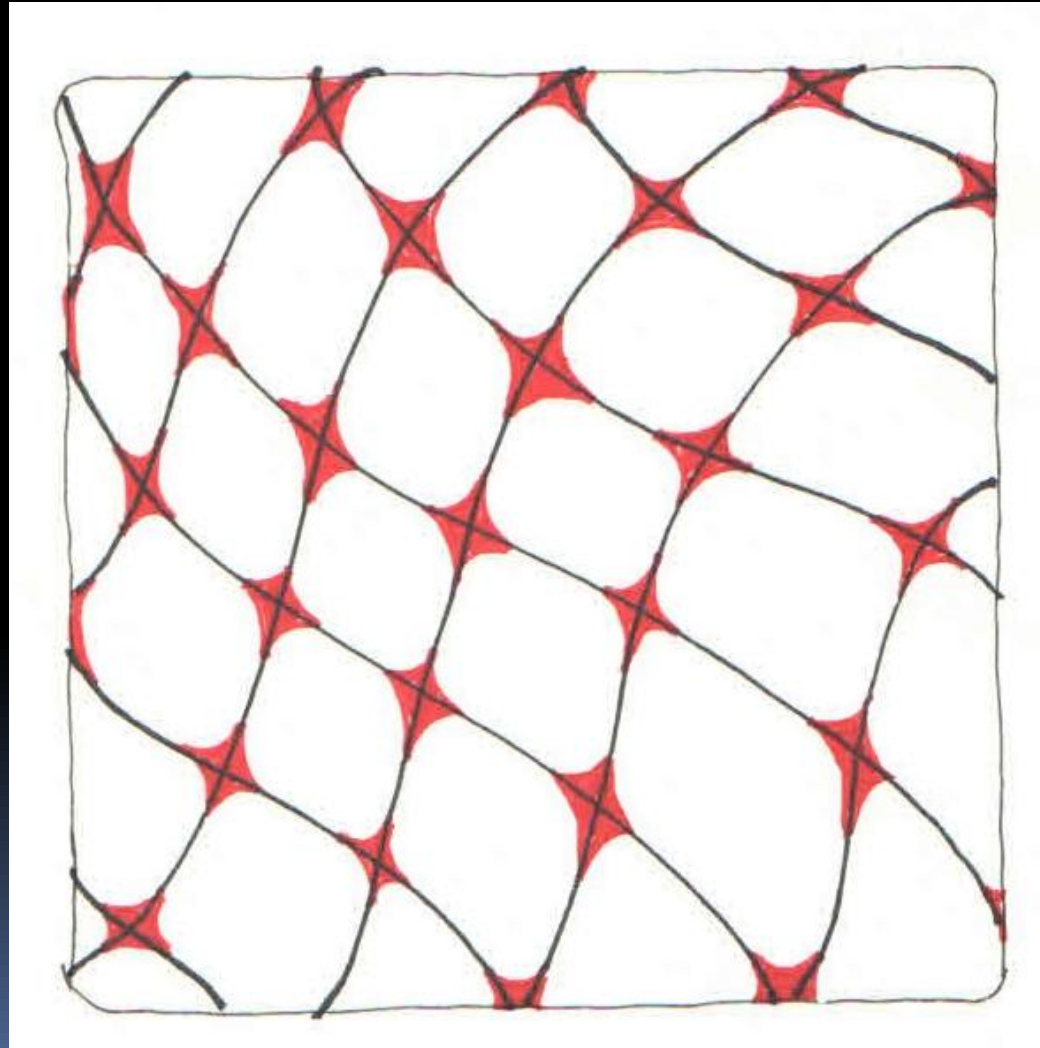

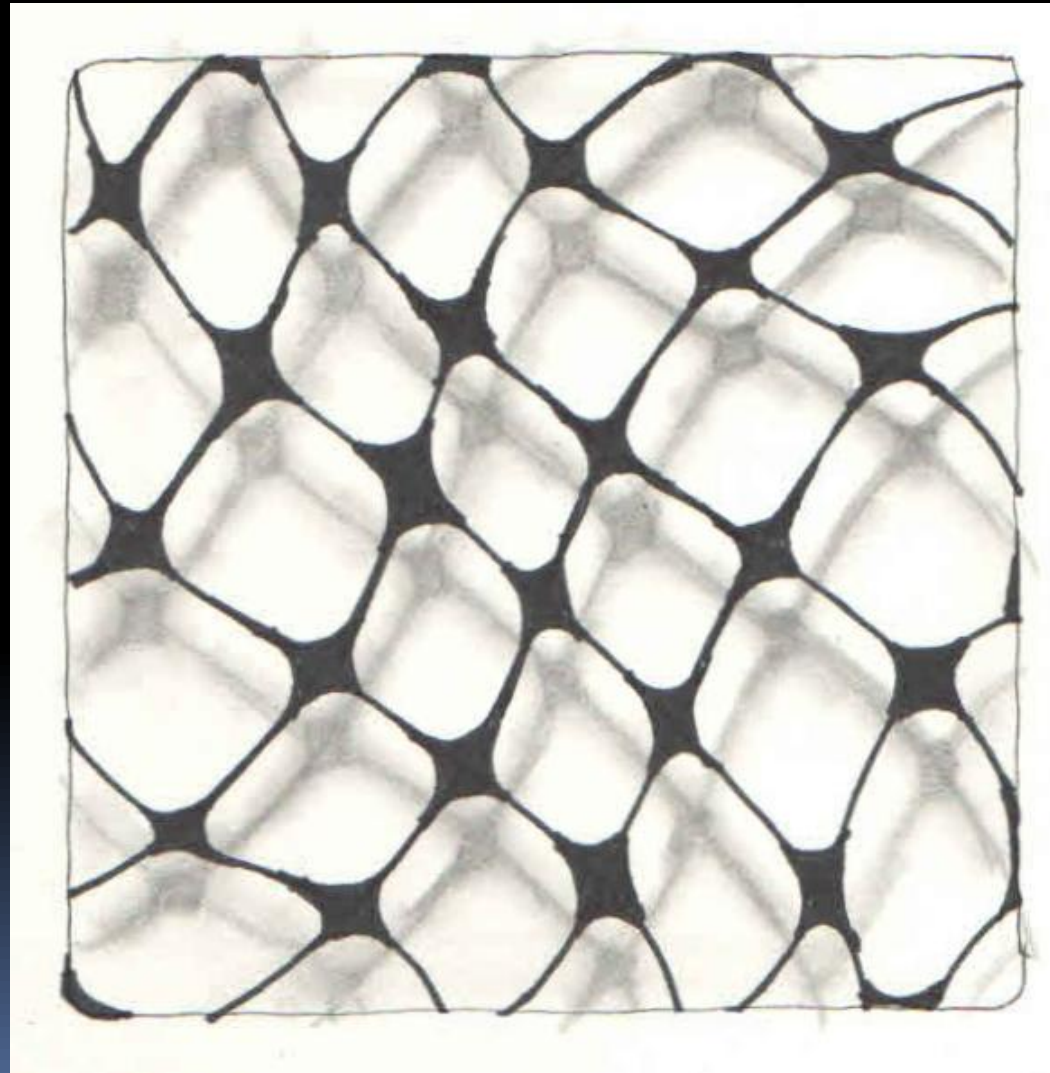

Let's try another.
Start here with a grid.

Color the intersections

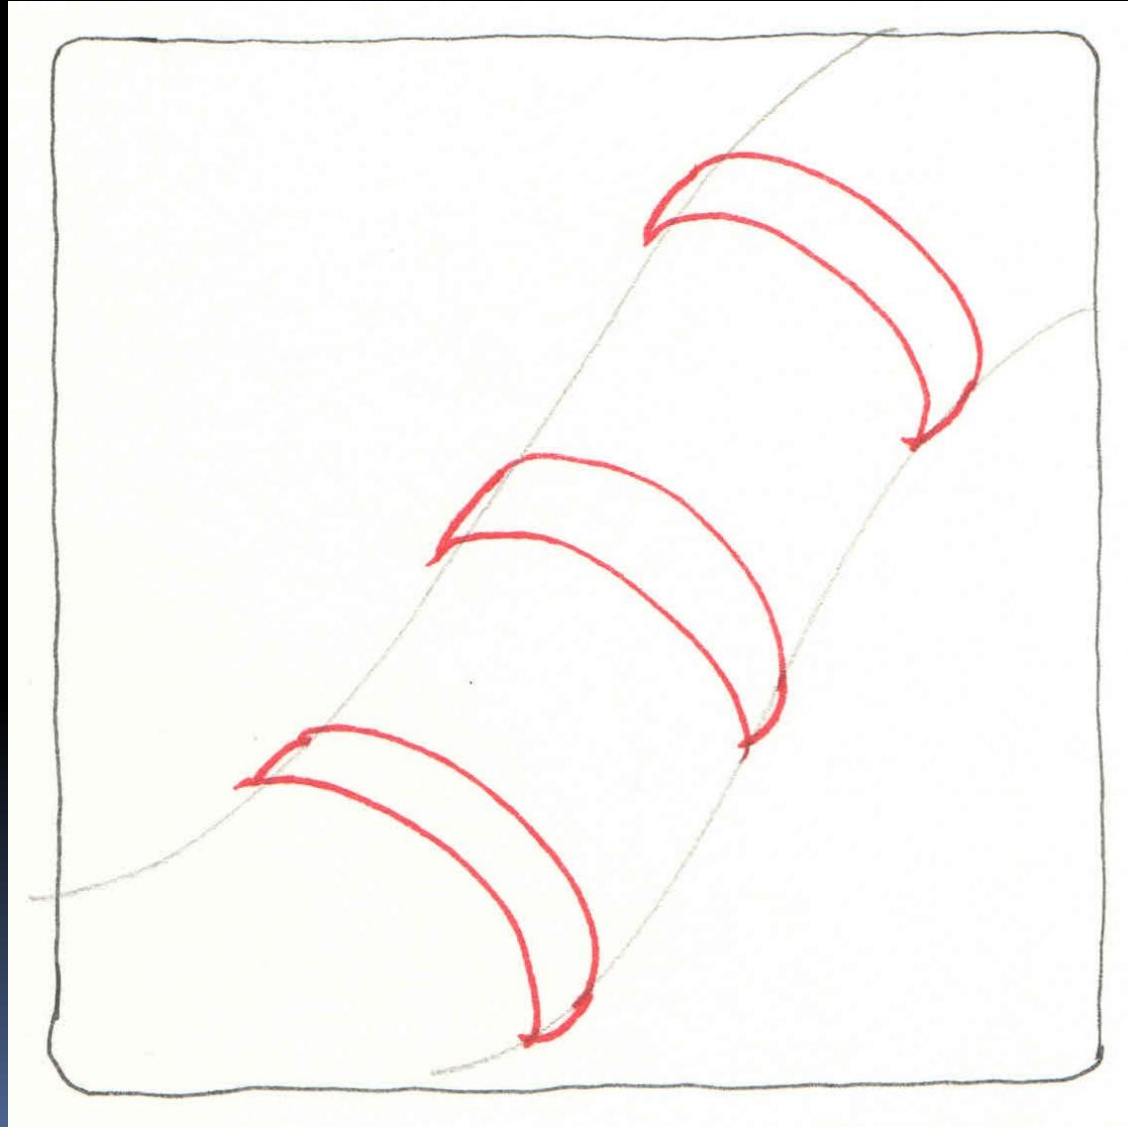

Finish with shading

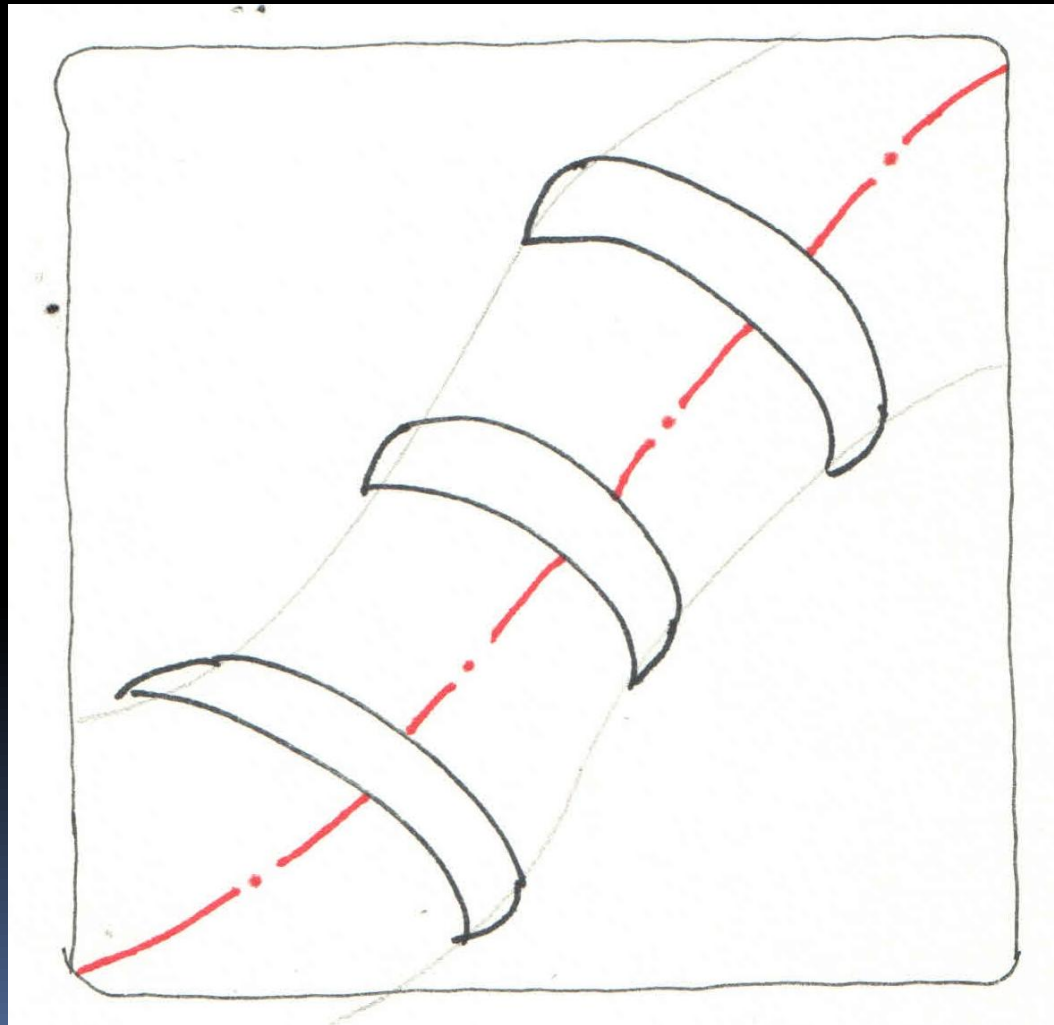

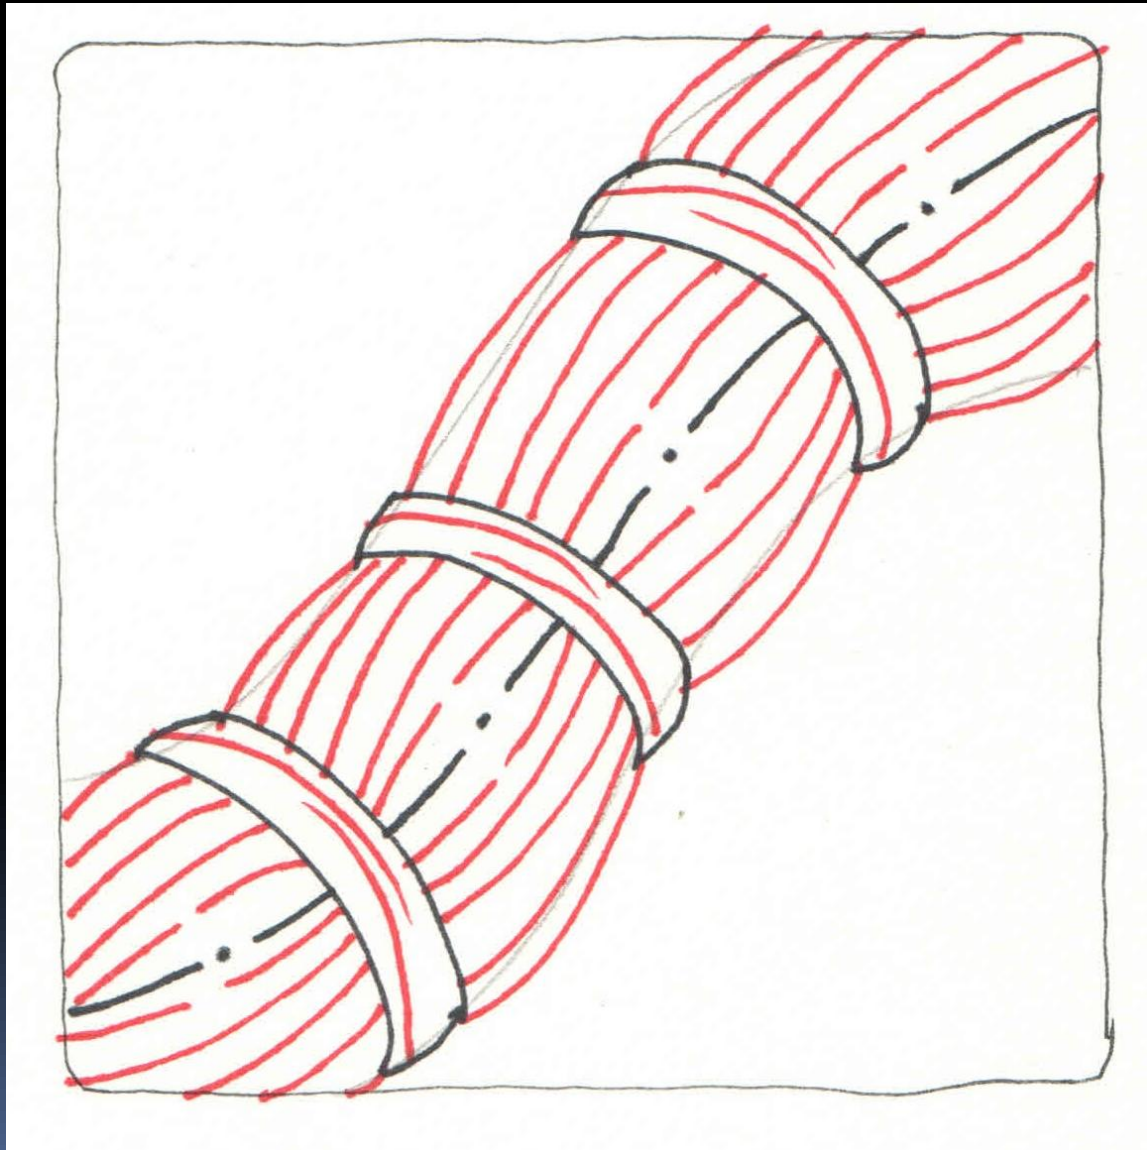

This is one of my favorites!

By breaking the line, you create a “Sparkle”

Add echoed lines

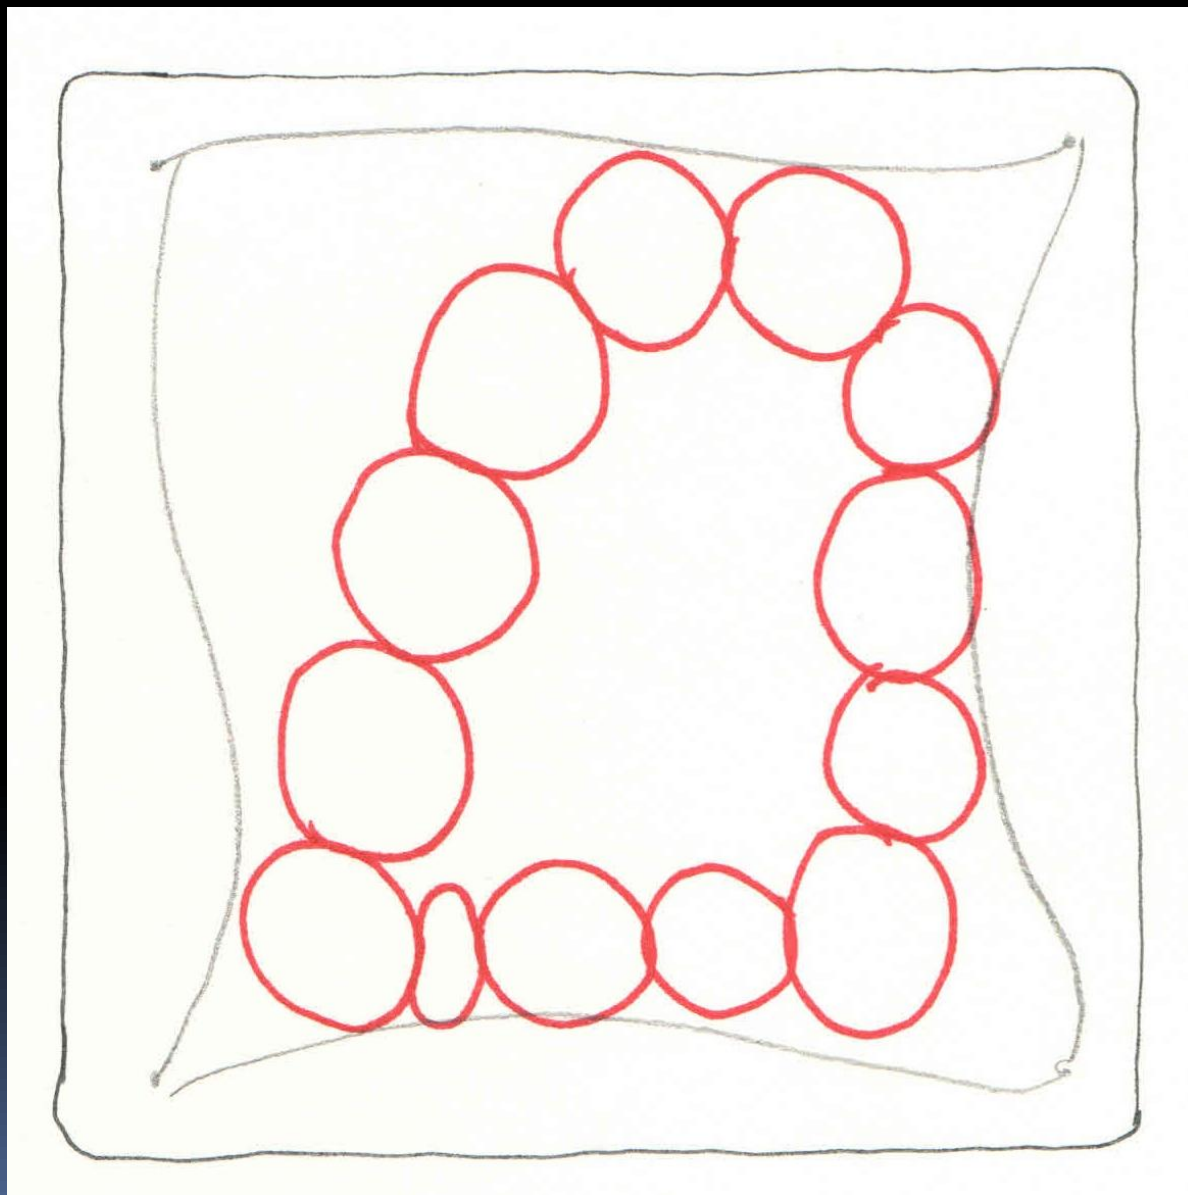

Shading adds dimension

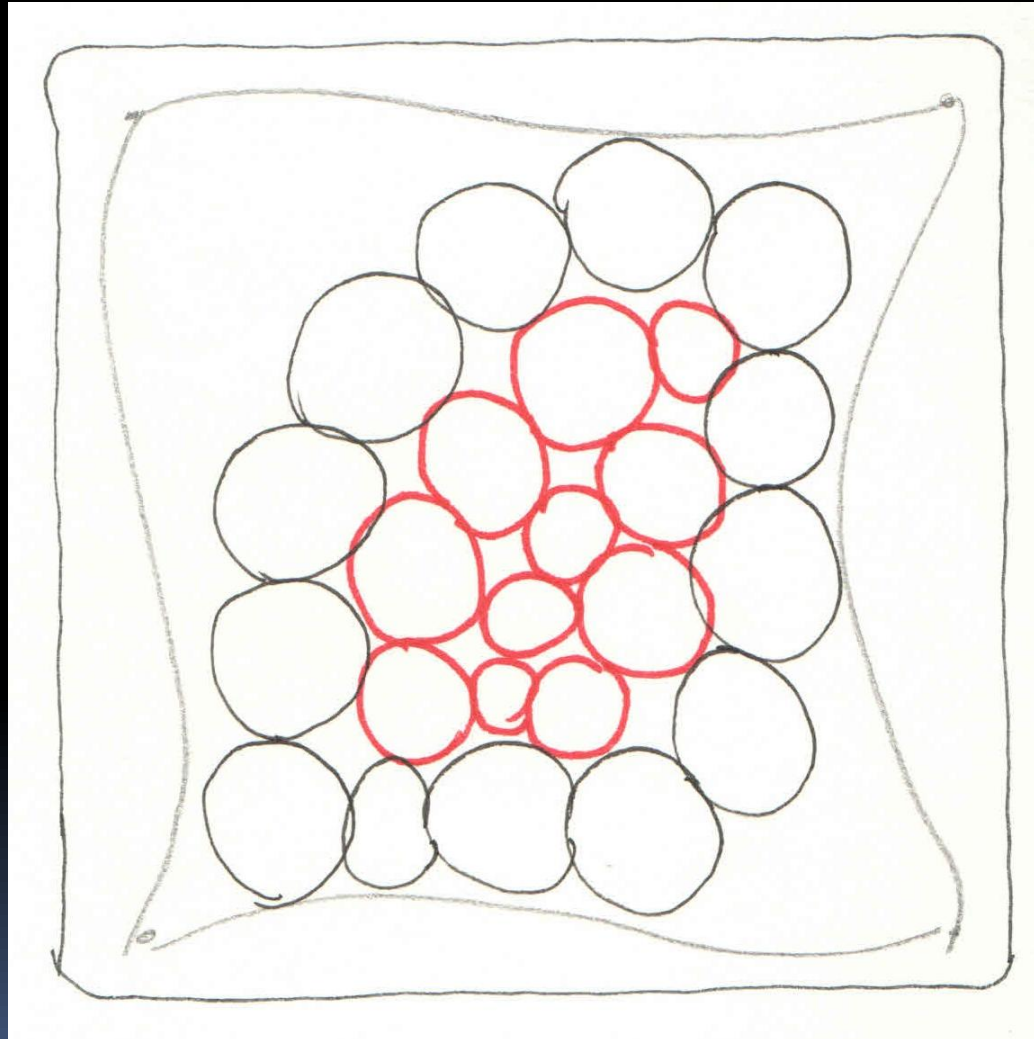

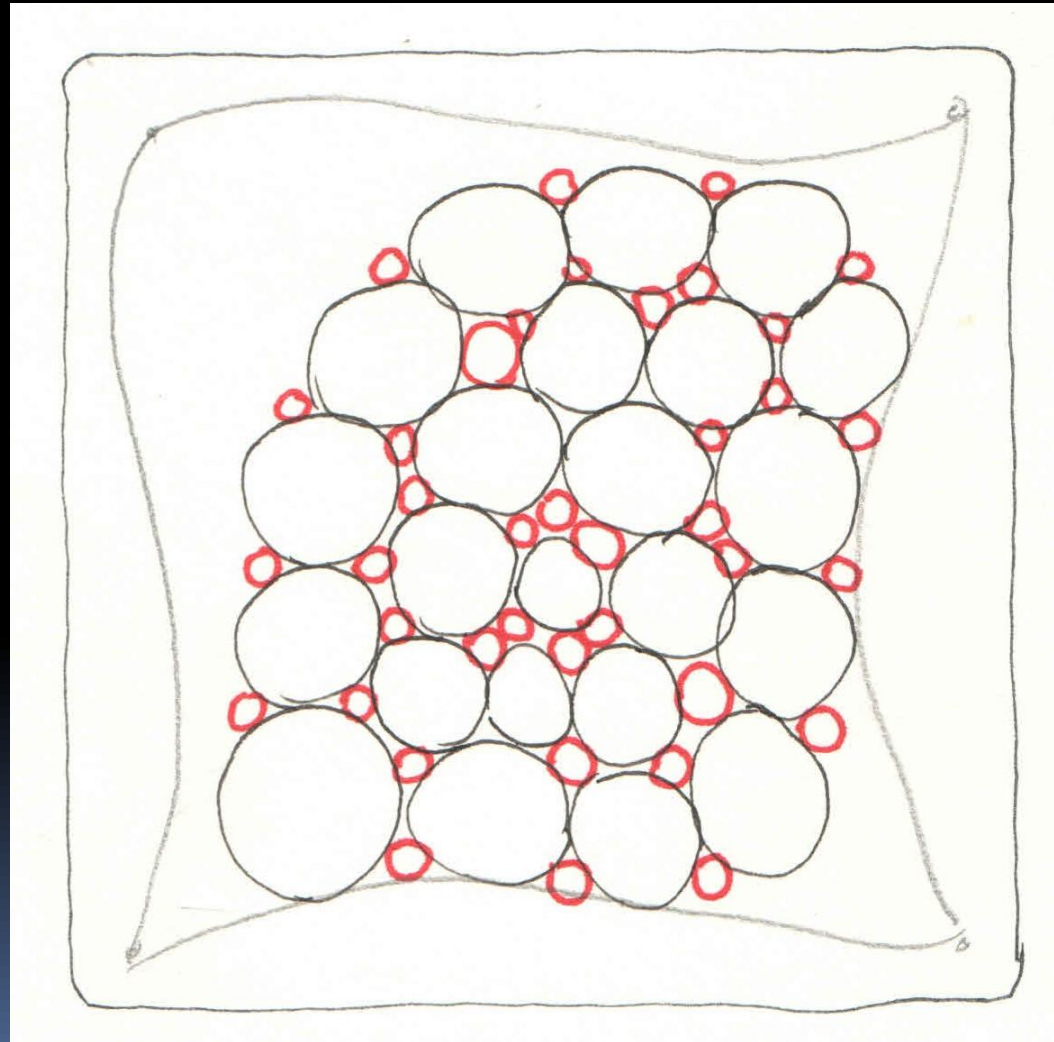

Circles make a great filler!

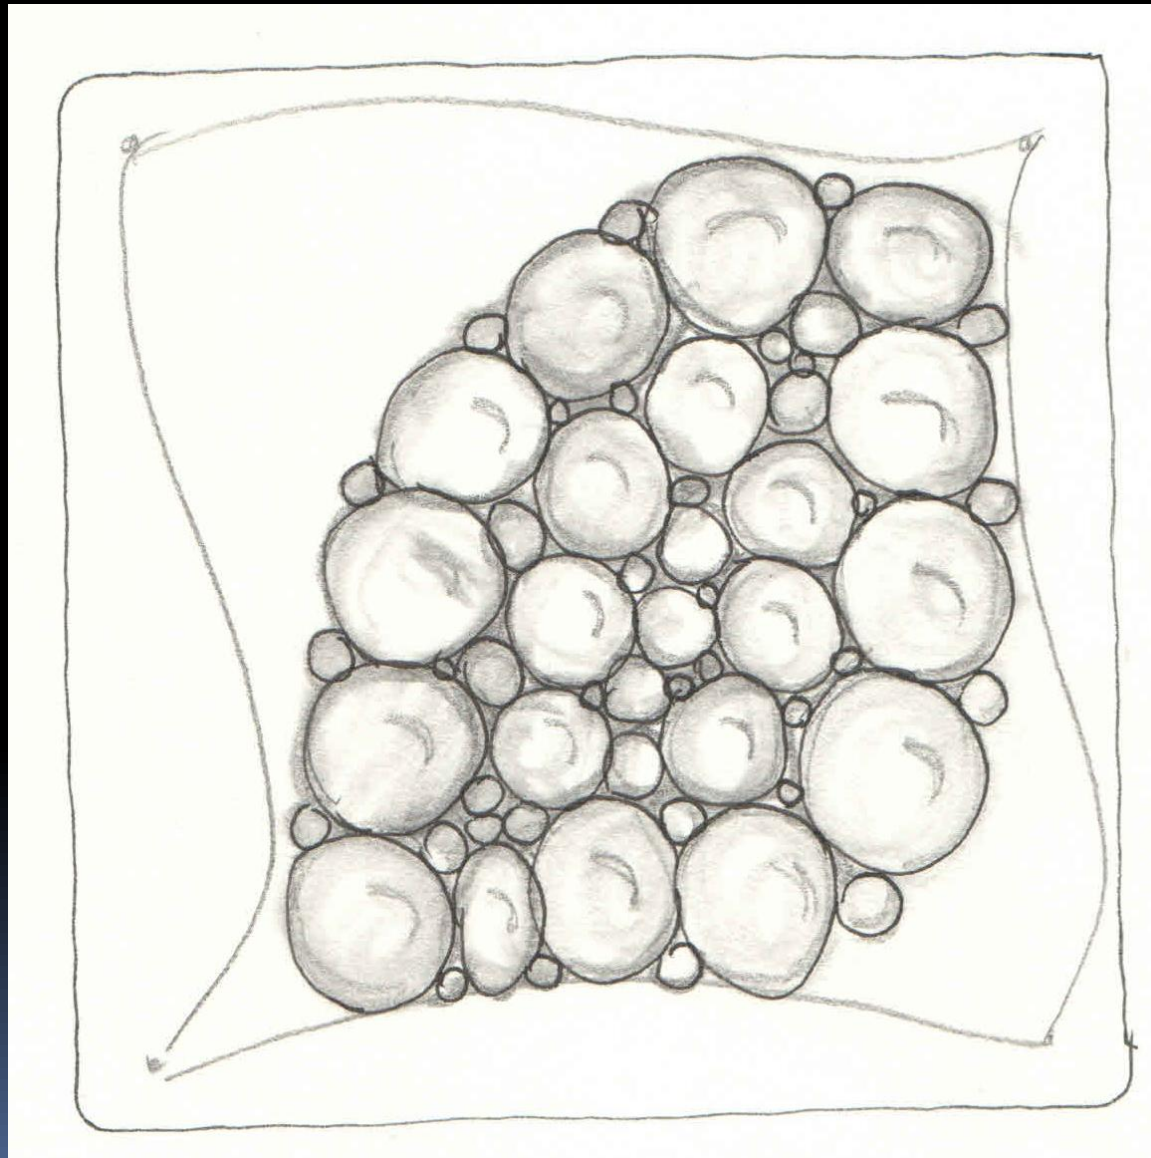

Add more circles!

Fill tiny spaces with tiny circles

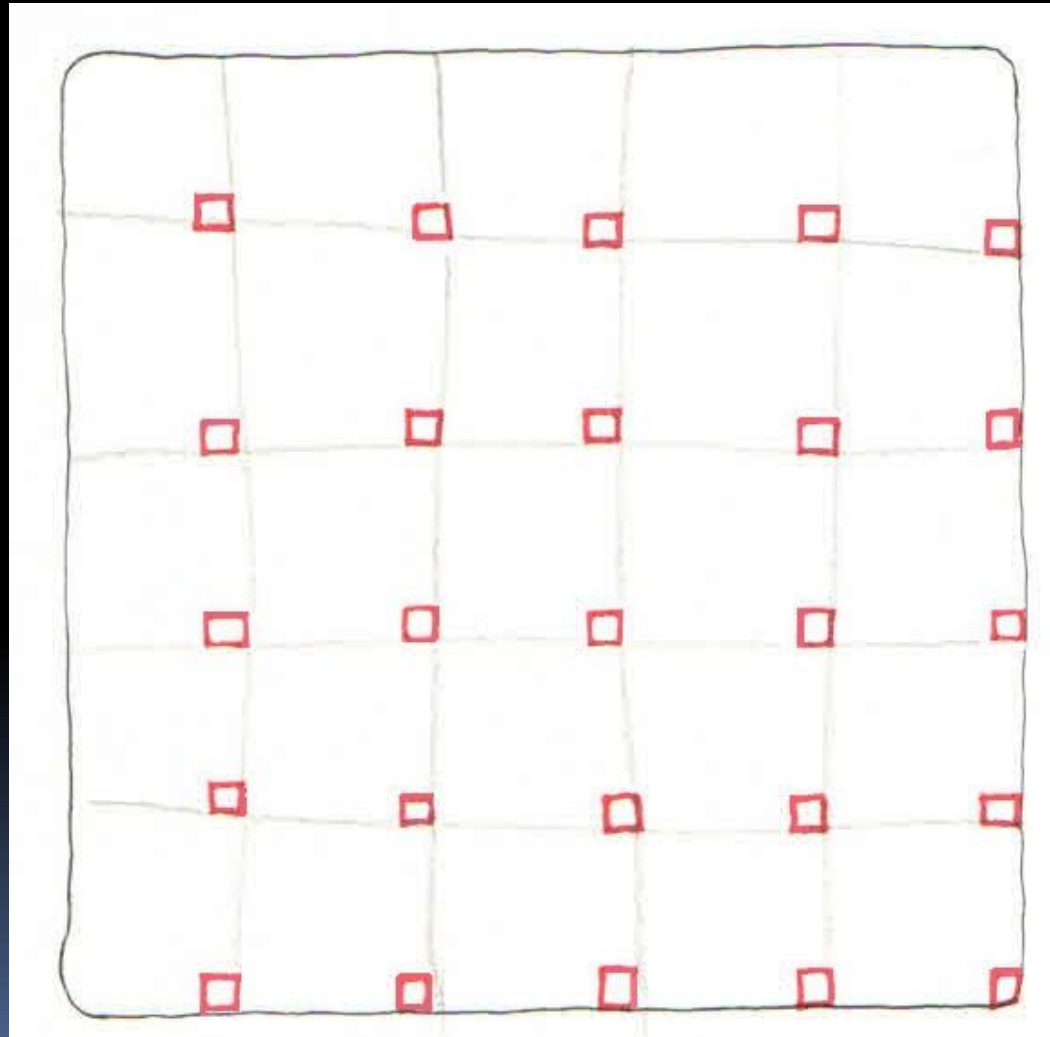

Shade, Shade, and Blend!

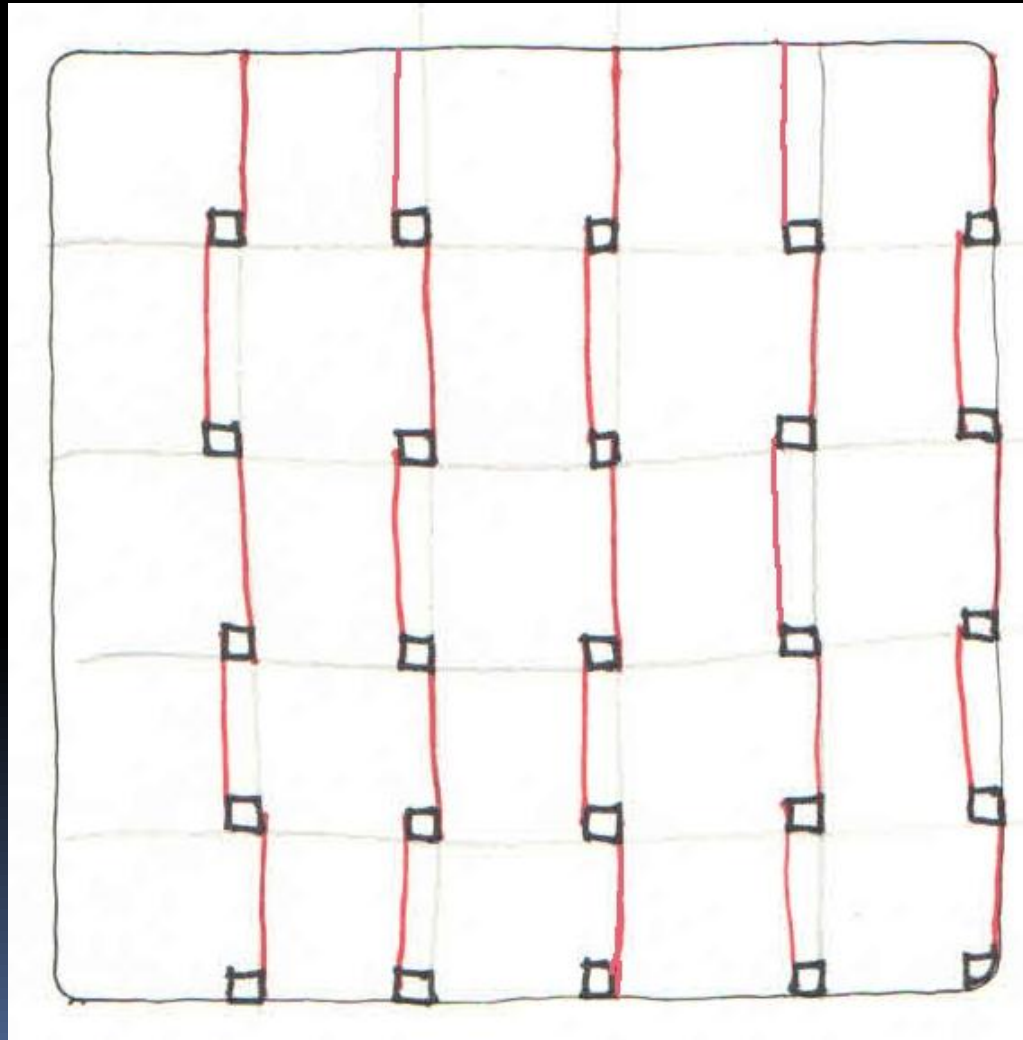

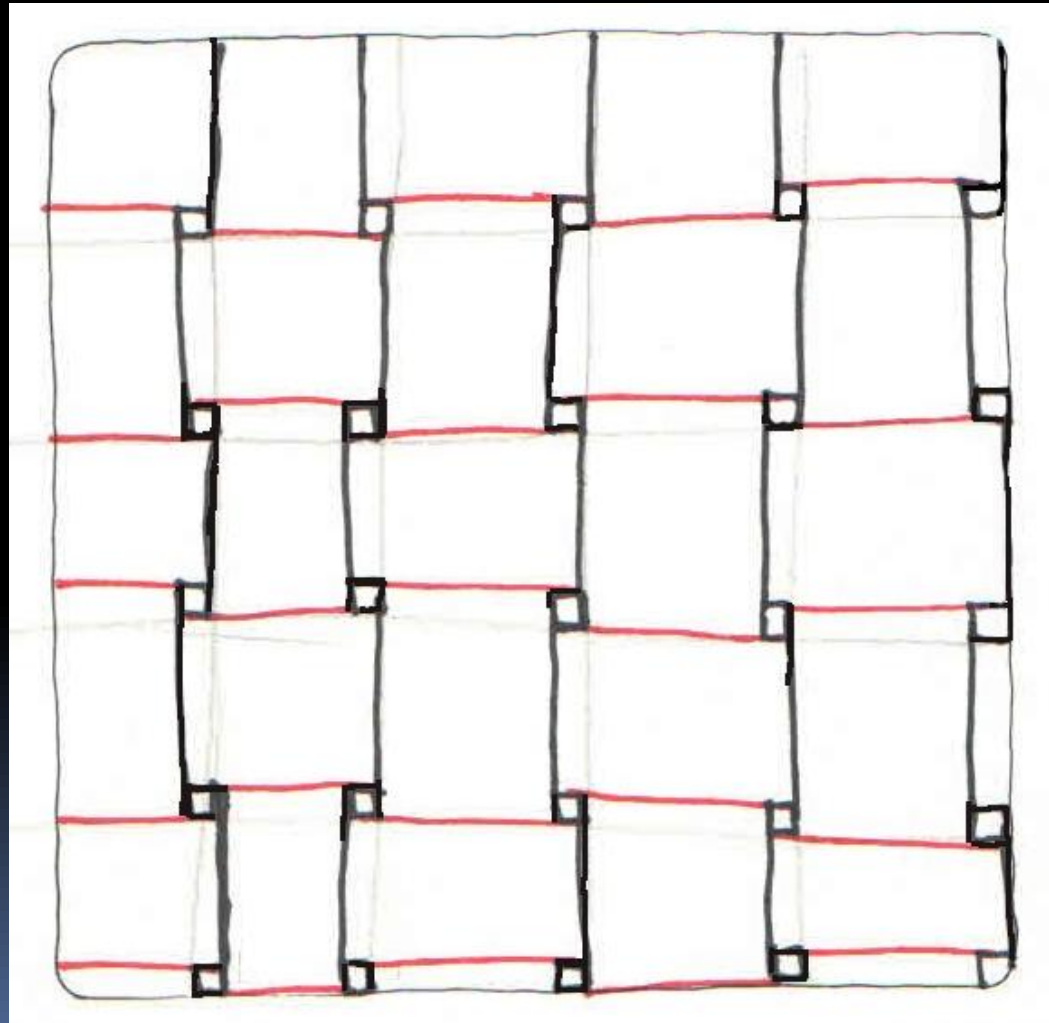

Many designs are drawn on a grid.

Connect the small boxes as shown

Connect the boxes both horizontally and vertically

Draw perpendicular lines
in each box

Finish with shading

Put it all together!

The mat for Zentangle keeps your fabric in place as you draw.

Once you master your skills,
try incorporating embroidery!

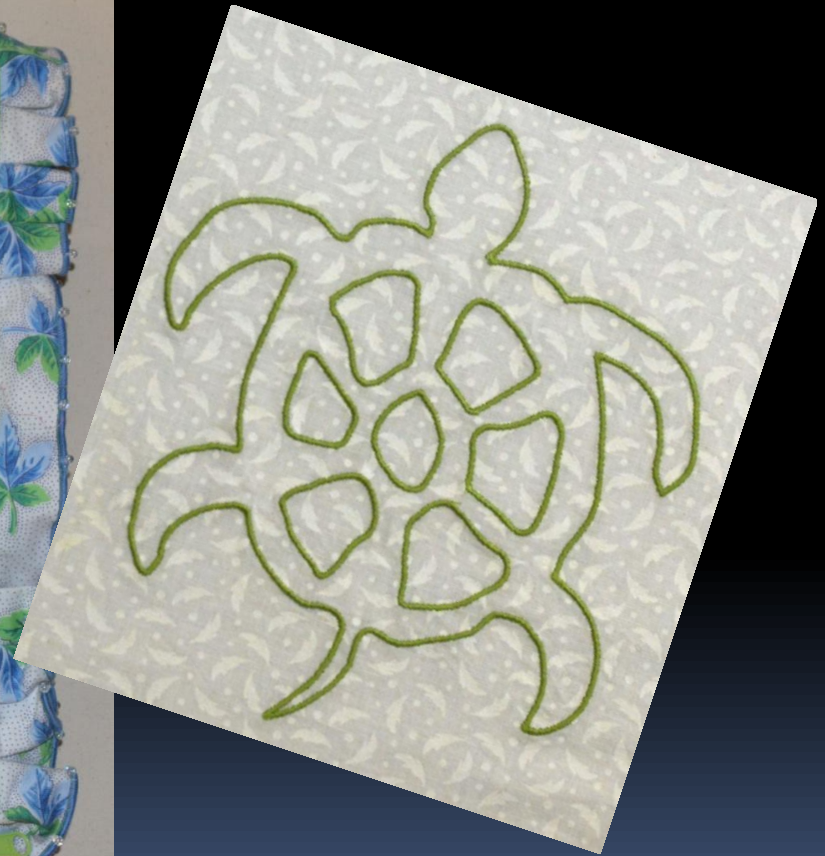

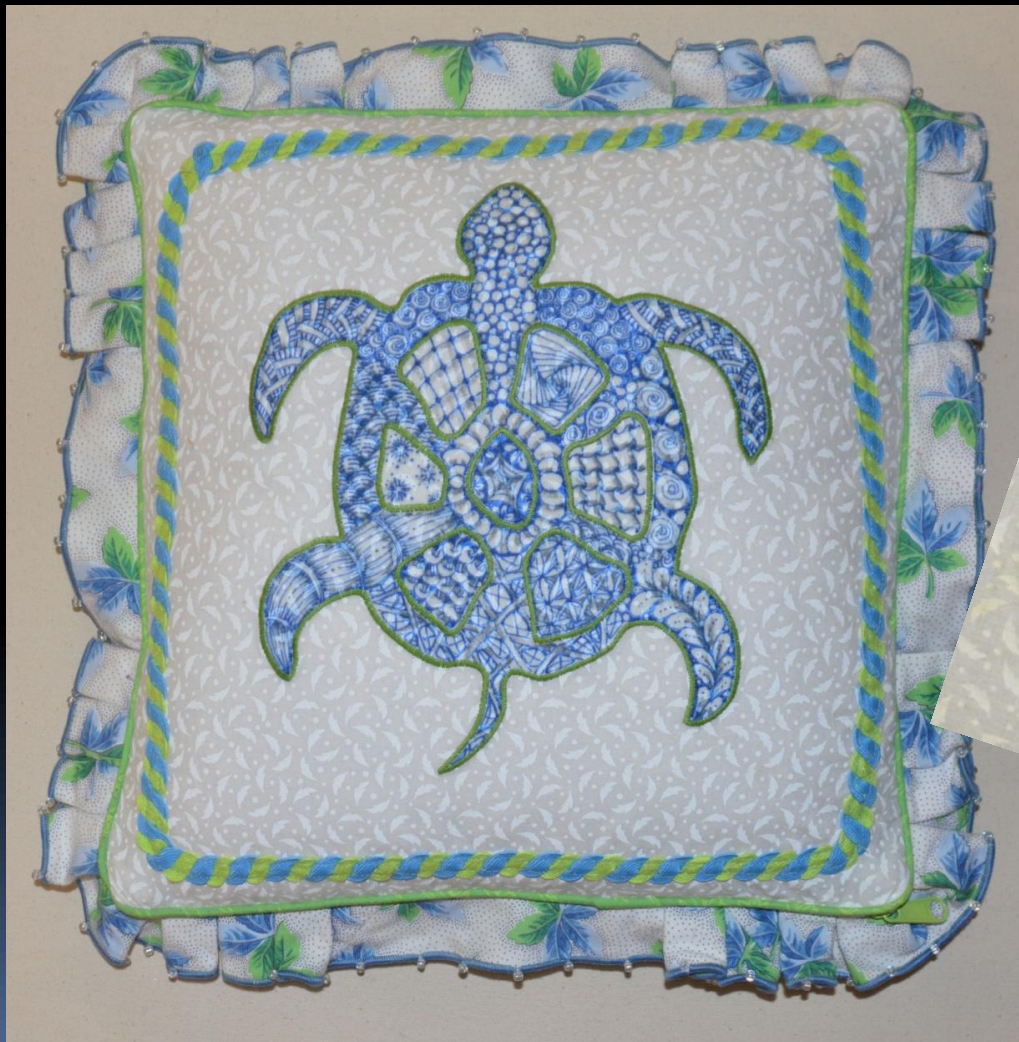

This is another embroidery design from my new book!

Embroidery loves Zentangle!

Zentangle can be incorporated with other embellishments

Even “practice squares” can be made into great projects!

You can tangle something you already have or make something new!

Monograms can be tangled for a personalized look

Zentangle your world!

Add Zentangle
to anything that doesn't move!

And even somethings that do!

There's more than one way to tangle a room!

Zentangle on Fabric

To tangle on fabric, you'll need a pen with a sturdy nib, such as the Identi Pen. Try a variety of pens to find the ones that work the best for you.
